Beck 'Theft' Talked

Teamster Boss Is Called Arrogant By McClellan

By DOUGLAS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamster titan Dave Beck, a Fifth Amendment witness, wound up an initial appearance before Senate rackets probers Wednesday under scorching denunciation for "arrogant contempt."

Before senators talking of "theft" of union funds, the President of the powerful International Teamsters Union had repeatedly sought refuge behind the Fifth Amendment on all sorts of questions.

It might incriminate him, Beck declared, to say whether he borrowed $200,000 through two business firms to replenish the union treasury after federal income tax agents set out on his trail. He even said it might incriminate him to say whether he used $9.68 of union money to buy five dozen diapers.

"Off the record, senator," Beck told Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis), "you are assured it's not for myself."

Sen. McClellan (D-Ark), chairman of the Special Senate Committee investigating improper labor and industry activities, said he did not know whether Beck's refusal to answer questions constituted "actionable contempt" of Congress — punishable upon conviction by a fine and one-year jail term.

Tongue Lashed

But McClellan said he intended to find out.

It was McClellan who tongue-lashed Beck at the finale of this phase of the committee's hearings.

Beck, he said, had shown flagrant. . .disrespect for honest unionism" and arrogant contempt for the 1,500,000 "honest laboring people" in his own union—the nation's largest.

And, he said, in his opinion, Beck has shown "utter contempt of this committee of Congress, of the United States and for his government. Whether that contempt is actionable or not, I am not at the moment prepared to say."

It was McClellan, too, who spoke of theft.

All the indications at the hearings, he said, have been that Beck was "taking money from his union."

"I don't know any word that would describe it less than 'theft,'" he said, "unless his union knew about it and he replaced it."

The committee contends that Beck took more than $320,000 from the teamsters union and that there is no evidence of its being a loan or a gift.

Exonerated

Even though he took the Fifth Amendment over and over, Beck contended that when the complete story is brought out—and he thinks it will be in court because of his income tax troubles—he will be exonerated fully.

He said he had been in the trade union movement 40 of his 62 years and hadn't done one single thing which in his mind was wrong. And once there is final judgment in a court, after he faces his accusers, has the right of cross examination, and the rules of evidence apply, Beck predicted that:

"I'll be able to come out of this clean and white 100 per cent."

Almost as often as he pleaded the Fifth Amendment, the witness said he was doing so only on advice of his lawyers, to protect his Constitutional rights.

Just as often as Beck contended the committee lacked authority and invoked the Fifth, McClellan overruled him and ordered him to answer. Just as often, Beck refused again.

Checks

The committee backed up with photographed copies of checks and other documents its stand that Beck never started putting money back into the union until after the Internal Revenue Service went after him in March, 1954.

That chapter opened up when Sen. Ives (R-NY) asked Beck if he thought it proper for a labor organization to lend money to companies with which they are engaged in collective bargaining.

'Around World In 80 Days' Best Film

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Ingrid Bergman, the missing Russian princess of "Anastasia," and Yul Brynner, royal sire of 82 children in "The King And I," were crowned the top star performers of 1956 by the Motion Picture Academy Wednesday night.

"Around The World In 80 Days," producer Mike Todd's first venture in film making, was hailed the best picture of the year.

Dorothy Malone, the sexy Texan heiress of "Written On The Wind," and Anthony Quinn, the eccentric artist Gauguin of "Lust For Life," were selected the best supporting players of 1956.

Another Texas subject, "Giant," won the best directing award for George Stevens.

For Miss Bergman it was a spectacular return. Winner of an Oscar in 1944 for "Gas Light," she exiled herself from Hollywood amid scandal and scorn eight years ago.

'Anastasia'

The mother of a child by Italian director Roberto Rossellini and later his wife, she came back to American films last year in "Anastasia," which has a European locale.

The 42-year-old Swedish actress is in Paris and she designated one-time co-star Cary Grant to accept the Oscar. He did so gracefully, sending her "our congratulations, love, admiration and every affectionate thought."

Brynner, bald as the Oscar he held, beamed: "I hope this is not a mistake 'cause I won't give it back for anything in the world."

Born on the island of Sakhalin near Siberia, of Mongolian and Romanian parents, the 41-year-old actor won Hollywood's highest honor for his second starring picture. He recreated the role he played hundreds of times in the stage show.

The dynamic Todd made no secret of his joy in winning. He dashed from his seat in the Hollywood Pantages Theater and then slowed down as he approached the stage. He told the audience he was particularly thrilled "on account of because it's my first time at bat."

Miss Malone, 29-year-old Chicago native who was reared in Dallas, accepted her Oscar in honor of her brother, Bill Maloney. She explained later that the 16-year-old boy was killed by lightning on a Dallas golf course two years ago, shortly after he had won a golf trophy.

Quinn's win was the only semi-upset of the evening. Most predicters (except this one) thought Robert Stack would win. So did Quinn.

Delay Okayed In Tax Slash

Senate Refuses To Vote Special Relief To Small Businesses

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Senate Wednesday passed a bill to postpone until next year a scheduled three-billion-dollar annual drop in business taxes. It did this after refusing to write in special relief for small business.

A voice vote sent the measure to the House, which had passed a somewhat different version earlier.

The House is expected to agree speedily, perhaps Thursday, to the Senate bill which extends present corporation income tax rates and excise levies for another 15 months. The House had voted for a one-year extension.

The scheduled tax cuts will go into effect Monday unless Congress passes an extension bill this week. The need for haste was one factor working against proposed amendments to aid small corporations.

First to be voted on — and rejected 52-33 — was an amendment offered by Sen. Fulbright (D-Ark). It would have cut the taxes of small corporations by 400 million dollars a year. This revenue loss would have been offset by a simultaneous increase in taxes on large companies.

Oil Income

Defeated by voice vote was still another amendment by Sen. Williams (R-Del) to cut the tax depletion allowance on oil and gas income from 27½ to 20 per cent.

The Senate bill would extend for 15 months — until July 1, 1958— present rates on corporation income and excise taxes on autos, auto parts, cigarettes, liquor, wine and beer.

Were these taxes to drop Monday, the Treasury would lose three billion dollars a year in revenue—enough to put President Eisenhower's balanced budget in the red.

The House has voted a one-year extension, to next April 1, but its leaders have said they would go along with the 15-month continuance sponsored by the Senate. The House would have to accept this formally, however before the measure could go to Eisenhower for signing.

The Senate met at 10 a.m., two hours earlier than usual, in an effort to complete action on the bill during the day. Debate on each amendment was limited to one hour and two hours were alloted for talk before the final vote.

Surtax Rate

Fulbright proposed to lower the normal tax rate on small corporations to 22 per cent, compared with the present 30. And he wanted to raise the surtax rate so firms with net incomes above $25,000 would pay a top rate of 53 per cent on such earnings instead of the present 52 per cent.

The Arkansas Democrat argued that his proposal would help halt an increasing concentration of business in the hands of giant corporations.

Sen. Byrd (D-Va), floor manager for the extension bill, said he favors help for small business. But he said that because the present bill must be acted on quickly, it was not the proper vehicle for such help.

Sen. Thye (R-Minn) said Secretary of the Treasury Humphrey has promised to submit as soon as possible proposals to aid small business.

Byrd also contended the Fulbright plan would give relief only to the 10 or 15 per cent of small businesses which are incorporated.

But Fulbright replied that almost all of the small firms which would not benefit already pay an effective tax rate lower than the 22 per cent minimum fixed in his proposal.

Education Hearing Brings Hot Words

Bill To Change Department's Setup Storm Center Of 3½-Hour Session

By BETTY PERSON
Star Staff Writer

Charges that the State Board of Education and its commissioner have established a "dictatorship," and countercharges that opposition to the board and its commissioner have "grown out of misunderstanding and misinformation," were hurled back and forth in a hearing before the Legislature's Judiciary Committee Wednesday.

The committee's 3½-hour public hearing was on LB 444, which calls for constitutional amendments abolishing the State Board of Education and the office of commissioner of education, and establishing a superintendent of education elected by the people.

The committee held the bill for further consideration. The bill's principal introducer, Senator Hal Bridenbaugh of Dakota City, said the bill was introduced because of the "discontent, fear, concern, distrust and uncertainty prevailing among parents and people responsible for schools on the local level all over the state."

'Two Causes'

He said there were two basic causes for this concern: "(1) A state administration that no longer cares about local problems and is not responsive to them and (2) the frustration of voters who can no longer make their wishes felt on a responsible head of the department."

During the hearing, attended by some 600 persons — primarily in favor of the bill, proponents labeled State Education Commissioner Freeman B. Decker a "dictator" and contended the only issue involved is "whether the people are to be trusted to govern themselves."

Representatives of three of the state's four large farm organizations: the Farmers Union, Farm Bureau Federation and the National Farm Organization; members of the Nebraska Small Schools Association, and Sen. Monroe Bixler of Harrison, were among those appearing in favor of the bill.

Redistricting Issues

Among issues which developed at the hearing were those concerned primarily with the school redistricting problem.

The bill's proponents declared the Board of Education and Decker were trying "to ram redistricting down our throats," and contended they wanted it left in the hands of the local districts.

Opponents of the measure declared with equal intensity that a K-12 program could be established only through legislation and not by the board or commissioner, and thus those fearing a K-12 program could control it through the Legislature.

Leading the opposition to the measure was Donald F. Kline, representing the Nebraska State Education Association, who said "Decker has taken serious abuse growing out of misinformation and misunderstanding."

He said he wanted to go on record in defense of Decker "who has suffered repeated attacks. No one could do a better job."

Kline maintained that under the superintendent form of state education system, a person can get elected by the populated areas of Nebraska and not represent the rural areas.

'Represents People'

The present form of education government "represents the people," he continued.

Joining Kline in opposition to the measure were: George Spidel, representing the Nebraska Grange; Mrs. George Lindsay for the Omaha Council of PTA Associations; Richard C. Brown, executive secretary of the Nebraska School Boards Association, and former State Senator Glenn Cramer of Albion.

The Nebraska Council of Churches also presented a letter in opposition to the measure.

Nebraska had the superintendent form of education government until 1955. A constitutional amendment changing to a board and commissioner form was voted favorably in 1952; the 1953 Legislature set up machinery to put the commission form in operation; the board members were elected at the general election of 1954, and took office in January, 1955.

The Judiciary Committee also heard, but took no action, on four other measures:

LB 507—providing for liens on oil and gas leasehold interests and pipelines.

LB 445—providing manner in which real estate may be sold by a county which obtained it in foreclosure of old age assistance lien.

LB 366—extending the time for filing of subcontractor's lien from 60 days to three months.

LB 459—extending from four to six months the time for filing mechanics' materialmen's liens.

Tax Debate To Go On; Hope Dim . . . For Passage

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

More than two hours of debate on the sales-income tax bill, LB 134, Wednesday didn't change the outlook for the measure's chances of passage.

Predictions were that the bill would go the way of the straight sales tax measure, LB 88, which died 26-15 at the hands of the Legislature.

Proponents of the combination measure felt Wednesday the delay in voting on a motion to kill the bill would be to their benefit.

Minds Made Up

Others felt the senators had their minds made up in advance of the oratory and there was little chance the final outlook would change.

It is also anticipated that motions to consider bills calling for state expenditures of $5,000 or more before acting on the sales-income bill would be voted down.

Sen. Terry Carpenter said he plans to ask that all such bills be killed by the legislators on the floor. There was little likelihood of this motion passing, many senators felt.

To Embarrass

Some said they thought Carpenter, primarily was attempting to embarrass Gov. Anderson.

During debate on the motion, Carpenter said the state should be given a chance to operate under the governor's budget recommendations.

Continued debate on LB 134 is expected Thursday, with some senators hoping for a speedy vote on the measure.

Fireworks Plant In Capital City Blows Up

MEXICO CITY (AP) — Two successive explosions at a dynamite-packed fireworks plant on the outskirts of Mexico City Wednesday killed or injured scores of persons. Police sought the factory owner for questioning.

The second blast, only 15 minutes after the first, caught rescuers moving in to help the first victims. Eleven bodies had been recovered early Thursday, and 110 persons were hospitalized, many in critical conditions.

The explosions smashed the 100 by 100 foot factory near the International airport, five miles from the center of Mexico City. The blasts leveled almost a solid block of brick and adobe buildings and were heard over the roar of traffic in the capital.

A crater nearly 100 feet long and 30 feet deep marked the place where the factory had stood. Windows in the airport terminal, less than a mile away, were shattered.

Explosives

The police said they wanted to question Antonio Joyas Chavez, owner of the plant and an adjoining warehouse. They said his permit did not authorize storing explosives in a warehouse.

The first blast wrecked the plant and killed its watchman. He had noted smoke coming from the building and went to ask his wife to call firemen. She ignored his request, saying she thought the fire was not dangerous. The watchman was killed when he returned to battle the blaze with buckets of water.

The factory was located on the edge of a poor residential district called Colonia Federal.

Buses and trucks moving on the Mexico City-Puebla highway beside the airport were rocked. Fifteen injured were taken from one bus badly twisted by the blast.

Police said large quantities of powder and dynamite had been stored in the building.

The first blast occurred about noon.

Rescuers Caught

Police, firemen and ambulance drivers were caught in the second explosion 15 minutes later. At least three firemen and a traffic policeman died in the second blast.

Lt. Col. Rafael Garcia Esparza, assistant fire chief, was seriously injured but kept shouting orders to rescuers although barely able to move.

Bodies of victims were torn and hurled by the explosive force into trees and onto the adjoining railway.

Thousands of curious crowded into the area.

Red Cross and Green Cross ambulances and private automobiles carried the wounded to hospitals.

McConnell Is Given $250 Fine

Details Of Two Charges Told In Ronin Statement

Raymond A. McConnell Jr., 41, editor of The Lincoln Journal, was fined $250 in Lancaster County Court on charges of disturbing the peace of an 18-year-old airman and procuring liquor for the minor.

McConnell had pleaded nolo contendere (no contest) to the charges and appeared Wednesday before County Judge Herbert A. Ronin for sentencing proceedings.

McConnell was fined $150 on the liquor count and the $100 maximum fine on the disturbance count.

County Attorney Elmer Scheele had charged that McConnell "did disturb the peace and quiet of Robert C. Burkheimer," identified as a Lincoln Air Force Base airman from Aberdeen, Md., and "did procure and deliver alcoholic liquor, to wit, whiskey" to Robert C. Burkheimer, a minor of 18 years of age" on Feb. 26.

Scheele told the court he had "nothing to add" to his report or the pre-sentence investigation by Adult Probation Officer George Meyer.

Defense Atty. Jack Devoe advised the court that there are "many instances of misdemeanor cases. . .of which the court is aware . . . that individuals do not like to go through a trial."

In his own behalf, McConnell told the court that "I have nothing to say than what I told the probation officer."

In substance, in sentencing McConnell, the judge said:

The Court has now had the benefit of an extensive and impartial investigation in this case by George Meyer, Adult Probation Officer, supplementing that made by our Police Department. The Court finds from the facts and reasonable inferences therefrom that the defendant is guilty of both counts of the complaint.

My further comment on the facts of this case is in explanation of the sentence which this court will impose. The police reports disclose that neither the defendant nor the complaining witness have any kind of a criminal record. My usual policy of not imposing jail sentences on first offenders in misdemeanor cases will be followed in this case.

Count two of the complaint charges the defendant with procuring alcoholic liquor for a minor. The complaining witness is an eighteen year old airman. He carried an altered identification card showing his age to be twenty-two. It is disputed whether the defendant knew his actual age. However, the opinion of everyone in this report is that he (Burkheimer) has the appearance and actions of a minor. It is not an essential element of this offense that the defendant had knowledge that the complaining witness was a minor.

The undisputed evidence discloses that the defendent and the complaining witness each consumed seven whiskey highballs from about 5:00 p.m. to 7:00 p.m., or a two hour period. Neither had eaten since their noon meal together, at which time both parties had consumed some whiskey. Statements of eyewitnesses confirm that both became intoxicated, and this became a contributing cause to the later altercation. The facts in this case are more serious than the usual case prosecuted under the statute. The penalty for this offense is not less than $50 nor more than $200. The Court will impose a fine of $150 on the second count.

The first count of the complaint charges the defendant with disturbing the peace of this eighteen year old airman. It is noted that the County Attorney does not file any similar complaint against this young airman, and the Court concurs in his decision. The defendant by his plea of nolo contendere does not assert his innocence to this offense, but he does emphatically deny the serious charges of this youth as to the cause of their struggle in the alley after their drinking session. The Court agrees with the County Attorney that there is no direct evidence to corroborate either of the sharply conflicting versions of who was the aggressor. There was a struggle and the screams and noise therefrom attracted a passerby. It is the defendant who flees from the scene, and the young man and the witness call the police.

The Court is of the opinion that it should not comment on disputed charges which are not essential to his findings and imply a different offense than that before the Court. The Court concurs in the statement of the County Attorney that the evidence does not warrant the filing of a felony complaint.

I am aware that this entire case has been humiliating to this defendant who has been prominent and highly respected by many in this community; and for which reasons the case has received more than usual publicity. However, his conduct cannot be condoned in this court of justice. All the circumstances and facts contained in the reports furnished me warrant my imposing the maximim fine of $100 on Count One of the complaint, and this will be the sentence of the Court.

Burkheimer, who was a courtroom spectator during the proceedings, is being transferred to Japan and planned to leave Lincoln Wednesday, he said.

Two Navy Fliers Feared Dead In Jet Trainer Crash

BELTON, Mo. (INS) — Two Navy flyers were feared dead Wednesday when a jet training plane exploded and crashed near Belton.

The body of one of the men, identified as a student-pilot, was found nearby, but there was no trace of the instructor.

Officials at the Olathe (Kas.) Naval Air Station, where the plane was based, said they believed the instructor's body may have disintegrated with the plane.

Names of the men were withheld pending notification of relatives.

Talk Of 'Severe' Budget Cuts Futile, Ike Says

President Is Annoyed By Pressure

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower said Wednesday it is futile to talk about making "severe" cuts in his $71,800,000,000 budget.

It is futile, he said, if the United States is to maintain its position in the world and provide its citizens with programs "agreed to be necessary."

Eisenhower spoke out with vigor and sharpness, telling his news conference:

"This budget was not only made carefully, it was made intelligently."

In earlier discussions of congressional maneuvers to whack into his spending plans, Eisenhower has been more restrained, and his attitude has been one of rather mild agreeableness to the possibility of cuts.

He went along with that stand Wednesday, to the extent of saying that of course it would be possible to "save money here and there, and I am all for it to the last dollar bill."

But he got more pointed and, with a trace of annoyance, said that with some people it has become a matter of becoming "economy conscious and not realizing what they are talking about."

Tartly, he observed:

"I must say it is a very great satisfaction to me to find out there are so many economy-minded people in Washington. They didn't use to be here."

Looks Fairly Fit

Eisenhower looked fairly fit. He was quietly well-dressed, as usual, in a three-piece brown suit with a dotted brown necktie in a soft white shirt collar. He could have used a hair trim on the back of his neck.

To a question of how he was feeling, Eisenhower said he was better "but I certainly would like some more sun." He didn't cough once during the conference.

Here are some of the other subjects that came up:

Fifth amendment — Eisenhower was asked his feeling about a labor union official, such as teamster President Dave Beck, using the Fifth Amendment to avoid testimony.

Eisenhower replied that in some instances the Fifth Amendment, with its protection against self-incrimination, was a basic safeguard to liberty. He added that "I must say I probably share the common reaction if a man has to go to the Fifth Amendment, there must be something he doesn't want to tell."

Politics

Politics — The President, with some joking, refused to discuss the possibility of a Republican being elected to the U.S. Senate from Texas. He also dodged any commitment on reports that Harold E. Stassen, his disarmament adviser, will try for the governorship of Pennsylvania.

Disability — Eisenhower said he would soon submit to Congress a plan to amend the Constitution to provide some means for the vice president to act in the event the President becomes temporarily disabled.

Russian threats — Eisenhower said Russian threats to Norway against premitting allied bases on its territory "are completely indefensible." He said "the right of Norway to take any measure it pleases within its own country for its own security certainly is clear."

Middle East — To a question about the reported movement of Saudi Arabian troops to the gulf of Aqaba area, the President said "I would doubt that it has any great significance . . ."

Sentence Given In Appeal Cases

Two defendants in city appeal cases were sentenced by Lancaster District Judge Harry Spencer.

Calvin Richards, 24, of the Lincoln Air Force Base, was fined $100 on a charge of driving under a suspended license Aug. 12 after he changed his plea to no contest.

Richards had appealed from a Municipal Court conviction and sentence of $100 and 20 days in jail.

Alton Detmer, 33, of 2101 No. 60th was fined $25 on a charge of speeding in a 25-mile-per-hour zone on Feb. 6 after he changed his plea to guilty.

Detmer had appealed from a Municipal Court conviction and fine of $60 on the charge.

Fair And Mild On Schedule For Thursday

A continuation of the fair and mild weather that is fast eliminating Nebraska's wet snow cover was predicted for Thursday and Friday.

Forecasters said the temperature would range from 42 to 52 degrees across the state.

Wednesday's highs ranged from 52 at Grand Island to 43 at Omaha. Lincoln's top mark was 50.

Despite the spring temperatures, Nebraskans were still digging out from under the heaviest snowstorm of the season. The State Department of Roads and Irrigation reported that Highways 34 and 6 west of the Oxford Junction were still one-way Wednesday, but that most roads in the eastern part of the state were open, except for some gravel roads.

The Lincoln Telephone and Telegraph Company reported that 4,300 telephones were still out of service Wednesday night although more than 2,000 were cleared during the day.

Direct long distance communication is out from Lincoln to Auburn, Hastings, Nebraska City, Plattsmouth and Superior, but Superior is the only town without any long distance service.

LT&T reported a total of 11,000 telephones were put out of service during the storm. Officials said only one other period caused more damage—two sleet storms in December 1947 put out a total of 11,250 telephones.

B-47 Lands Safely After Gear Trouble

ABILENE, Tex. (AP) — A B-47 jet bomber that circled Dyes Air Force Base for about 4 hours Wednesday while the crew tried to determine if the plane's landing gear was in place, made a safe and normal landing.

None of the crew of four was injured.

A spokesman for the base just west of here said that the plane's instruments had failed to function properly leading the crew to believe the landing gear was not in place for a landing. He said the plane's radio transmitter also failed to work.

While the plane circled it was refueled in the air by KC97 tanker planes from Altus Air Force Base. The plane's crew communicated with the ground by dropping messages from the bomb bay, wagging the bomber's wings and flashing its lights.

The plane reported its trouble about 9:30 a.m. on its return from a routine training flight.

Aboard the plane were Capt. John F. Briggs, pilot; 1st Lt. J. H. Diggs observer; 1st Lt. M. B. Blume, copilot and A.1.C. John A. Mussatti, crew chief. Home towns were not immediately available.

Tug Explodes In River; 4 Injured

NATCHEZ, Miss. (AP)—The diesel tug "Carol Dean" exploded in the Mississippi River about 30 miles south of here, state police said Wednesday night, with four of its crewmen reportedly injured.

Police said they believed the explosion took place in the engine room.

The identity of the injured men was not available.

Officers said they were sure there were more crewmen on the tug.

Macmillan Flies Home To Troubles

LONDON (INS) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan flew home from the Bermuda conference Wednesday to tackle an economic crisis threatened by the strike of one million, 200 thousand shipyard and factory workers.

Macmillan learned on his arrival that another 500,000 members of the engineering union would strike Saturday.

A total of two million, 700 thousand workers are scheduled to be out by April 6 unless the government can find a solution of the wage dispute.

The workers, represented by the Shipbuilding and Engineering Confederation, have demanded a 10 per cent pay hike. The employers reportedly have offered 5 per cent, which the confederation turned down.

Macmillan and Foreign Secretary Selwyn Lloyd came home a day earlier than they had planned from Bermuda, where they met with President Eisenhower and Canadian Prime Minister Louis St. Laurent.

On his arrival at London airport, Macmillan said he knows when Britain can expect delivery of the first American guided missiles. He said they are "in the last stages of development now."

Newspapers Are Biggest Gainers In National Ads

NEW YORK (AP) — Newspaper showed the biggest gain in national advertising of any medium during the month of January, Printers' Ink reported Wednesday.

Newspapers boosted their volume 10 per cent over December, 1956, according to the magazine's national advertising index.

Other heavy gainers during the month of January were outdoor advertising, up 9 per cent from the previous month, and network radio, up 6 per cent.

Total magazines and business papers both were up 2 per cent over December, 1956, and network television was off 1 per cent.

Ike Signs Housing Loan Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower Wednesday signed into law a bill making half a billion dollars in additional government loan funds available to relieve the tight market for housing mortgages. The increase was urgently sought by the administration.

President Eisenhower asked for one billion dollars of additional loan funds, but Congress cut his request in half. Leaders said more money could be voted later in the 1957 general housing bill.

The half billion goes to the Federal National Mortgage Association, known as Fannie Mae, which buys government-backed housing mortgages from builders and lenders when private funds are not available.

One provision added by the Senate would give Fannie Mae an extra 50 million dollars to buy mortgages for co-operative housing projects.

Beaten By Son

NEW YORK (AP)—An 84-year-old woman was taken to a hospital with a fractured skull caused by a savage beating. Police arrested her 200-pound son on an assault charge.

At first the 70-pound mother, Mae Amory, denied her son had beaten her during an argument. Finally, she broke down and told authorities:

"Yes, he did it. I wanted to protect him. I didn't want him to be hurt."

House Defeats Plan For Demo Probe Of Administration's Credit Policies

WASHINGTON (AP) — The House defeated 225-174 a plan for a Democratic-led investigation of the administration's credit and money policies. It was a victory for President Eisenhower, who wants a nonpartisan, independent commission to do the job.

Thirty-eight southern Democrats joined 187 Republicans to reject the resolution offered by Rep. Patman (D-Tex), a critic of the administration's "tight money" policies. Patman would have been leader of the investigation.

The resolution was supported by 172 Democrats and 2 Republicans.

In two hours of debate preceding the vote, Republicans contended a Patman-led inquiry would be prejudiced in advance in favor of "cheap printing press money."

But speaker Rayburn, personally entering the debate in a rare floor appearance, charged that opposition to the proposal stemmed from "propaganda" by banking interests.

The Texas Democrat made a fervent appeal to the House to stand by Patman and "do our business in our own way."

Eisenhower, in his State of the Union Message, asked Congress to authorize a study of the adequacy of the nation's financial structure by an independent commission.

The administration was reported ready to enlarge congressional membership on the proposed commission from four to eight to meet demands of House members for a larger voice.

Defeat of the Patman resolution opened the way for the Republicans to try and push through the administration plan.

The defeated resolution would have authorized Patman, as chairman of a House Banking subcommittee, to conduct a sweeping public investigation of the adequacy of present credit facilities, credit restraints exercised by the administration and the Federal Reserve Board, and the effect of higher bank interest rates on the economy.

Rayburn contended that "tremendous" forces had been working against the resolution for several days.

And he accused Republicans of trying to "create a lack of confidence in Mr. Patman."

Rayburn told the House that "many of the members I have spoken to with reference to how they are going to vote have said: "I have heard from all of my bankers. They are all against this thing.'

"Talk about propaganda!"

The Democratic leader added: "Well, if we had followed the bankers in 1913 and therefater, we would never have had the Federal Reserve System because, they said, it would interfere with their business, with their free enterprise way of doing.

"And like so many of those so-called socialistic measures we passed in 20 years, they are still saying that they are the best things that ever happened."

'Nice Man'

NEW YORK (AP) — When Mrs. Alice M. Morris of Los Angeles realized she had left her purse—and some $2,000 inside it — in a taxicab she did not despair.

"He seemed like such a nice man," she said of the driver, Louis Firester, 43, of Brooklyn.

He was. Firester reported the discovery to police. They located Mrs. Morris at her hotel.

Firester got a $100 reward from Mrs. Morris, an invitation to visit her should he ever go to Los Angeles and a bid to appear on a television program at a $25 fee.

W. L. Walker Counsel For Mrs. Warren

Lincoln Atty. William L. Walker has been appointed by the Lancaster District Court to defend Mrs. Helen F. Warren, 30, on a charge of first-degree murder in the Jan. 26 death of her husband, Maurice R. Warren.

Walker's appointment was made after Mrs. Warren filed a poverty affidavit stating she was unable to pay the necessary expenses of "having her defenses properly presented to the court."

County Atty. Elmer Scheele and Walker have indicated that Mrs. Warren's case may go to trial during the jury term beginning April 8.

Mrs. Warren was bound over for trial following a preliminary hearing in County Court. She had pleaded innocent.

Invoke Fifth

WASHINGTON (AP) — Two men, each charged with assaulting the other, demonstrated in Municipal Court the influence of the local Committee hearings.

Asked by Judge Armond Scott whether they wanted to plead guilty or innocent, Roscoe Roberts, 24, and Lester L. Coffer, 30, replied:

"We plead the Fifth Amendment, your honor."

Taken aback by this unorthodox invocation of the Constitutional protection against self-incrimination, Judge Scott chuckled, "case dismissed."

$25 FILING FEE WOULD REPLACE 500 SIGNATURES

The Judiciary Committee of the Legislature Wednesday tentatively approved an election law change under which candidates for election as delegates or alternates to national political conventions would file by paying a $25 fee instead of by submitting petitions carrying 500 signatures.

The revision is an amendment to LB 588, a measure rewriting Nebraska election laws.

Meeting in executive session, the committee worked the bill over but did not complete the job.

However, the committee amended and reported out, on 6-0 votes, two other measures heard earlier.

They were LB 271, providing for issuance of summons to persons arrested for motor vehicle law violations, and LB 272, relating to chemical analysis of body fluids of persons charged with motor vehicle homicide under the influence of intoxicating liquor.

Both bills are by Senators Stanley Portsche and Karl Vogel.

Of Men And Things

By J. E. LAWRENCE

Frequently it takes a heap of livin' if the individual is to obtain a reliable, sound perspective of developments—the type of development which contributes to the growth of a state.

What has been apparent to a great many Nebraskans for months now is that Nebraska's public power program could use to excellent advantage the wholesome tonic of a common goal and common purpose in the day-by-day relations of the various public power districts.

Two somber reflections are aroused by a continuing, seemingly endless, depressing controversy in which Nebraska's public power districts outwardly, at least, seem to have been engaged in recent months.

In the considered judgment of this newspaper, phases of this continuing controversy have at times taken on the garb of silly squabbling. If there is a common goal and a common purpose, then it is a misguided competitive sense which inspires the individual districts to seek advantages for themselves—advantages which over the long pull must of necessity be at the expense of their own associates who in the very nature of things also are a part of Nebraska's loosely drawn public power system. In the truest sense, if in a statewide power system one group is to claim for itself benefits and advantages at the sacrifice of others, then it follows that there are breakers ahead.

Cheapest Electricity

There are these two sobering reflections:

(1) Despite all of the controversy to which the people of Nebraska have been subjected by the officers and directors of rival districts, and possibly to the joy and glee of an occasionally hostile press, it would be well for the people to remember that the power which these districts have been talking about generally is the cheapest electricity distributed to the public among the 47 other states of the Union. That is something that we should never forget. We in Nebraska ought to be grateful for cheap electricity in this electrical age. We ought to know a good thing when we have it. We ought to be smarter than to permit misunderstanding and personal differences or cross-purposes to divide us and over the long pull possibly weaken us. Nebraska has cheap electricity for reasons to which we shall refer later, cheap electricity notwithstanding the fact that a lot of people now doing a lot of talking had absolutely nothing to do in the development of these facilities for cheap power in the beginning.

(2) At least some of the officers and directors of these squabbling districts in all of their talk are talking about things which in the beginning they did not create. They are talking about a system which in the personal property sense does not belong to them. On the contrary, these districts as public power districts are the property of the people of Nebraska and not the personal possessions of officers and directors. In the familiar sense of private ownership, they persist for hours without end in talking about something in which they have not a red cent invested. They are talking about something in this stubborn controversy which is owned by the people of Nebraska, operated in the best interest of the people of Nebraska by officers and directors who simply fulfill a sacred role and trust in providing Nebraska with the best public power system within reach.

Those Early Beginnings

Virtually forgotten now are the brutal circumstances of depression and drought under which this system of irrigation and public power in Nebraska came into being.

The primary objective at the time was water for the thirsty parched fields of an agricultural state. Yet generation of electricity of necessity becomes a hand-maiden in any sound far-sighted program of irrigation which involves construction of huge dams on the streams for storage of water in the reservoirs thus created. This needs to be said not once a year, but frequently because people seem to forget it. It needs to be said because it was irrigation and public power that helped Nebraska get to its feet again. It is the profits from electricity which defray a portion of the expense incurred in the construction of dams, storage of water, building of laterals and canals leading to the individual fields.

Now, there is nothing very complicated about that. It becomes complicated when a people who should know better, or those who are their leaders lose sight of it, forget it, or twist it to suit their own individual purposes.

It was our privilege to serve as one of the members of a board of three in those early unfortunate years of the 30's when depression and drought striking at virtually the same time delivered a knockout blow to thousands of Nebraskans, thousands who picked up and left when business became stagnant, unemployment mounted, and fear destroyed faith. Altogether faith was gone too much.

Without hesitation we say that one of the greatest developments if not the greatest that has taken place in Nebraska since the turn of the century were these developments on the streams which happily provided the foundation for a greatly expanded program of irrigation and the beginning of a statewide system of public power.

Loans And Grants

There is a reason why Nebraskans have relatively cheap electricity in an era of astronomic living costs. Under the public works program administered by a board of which this editor was one of three members, these developments were built in part under a program of loans and grants. The outright grant of funds from Uncle Sam amounting to 30 per cent or nearly a third of the total outlay paid for the construction of the one hydro-electric project now contributing the greatest amount of electricity to the state system. That 30 per cent grant to the people of Nebraska never was to be repaid, never drew a penny of interest, and obviously never became a part of the charges against electricity later to be generated. It was an outright grant for the sole purpose of putting idle thousands to work in jobs providing them with a paycheck upon which they could live.

That was in the 30's and in the short-sighted battle of today, the circumstances which gave us a cheap power ought not to be forgotten. Not only was there the gift of 30 per cent by grant but low interest in the beginning; by comparison with prices today, low material costs; and low labor charges conferring upon us an advantage which no one now living may ever see again.

Actually the loan on that one huge hydro-electric development in Nebraska, contributing to irrigation while generating power, was refunded last May at a 2½ per cent straight interest rate.

Part Of Our Heritage

In the last two years of drought and declining farm prices, it was the expanded irrigation program—both stream and well—that contributed the bulk of our agricultural produce. It would be difficult to visualize the bitter experience that might have been ours without irrigation and the blessing of cheap public power, which made its own contribution in drawing industry to Nebraska. We easily could have been flat on our backs. Instead we have cheap power to thank for an increase in growing industry. We have cheap power for 19,000 irrigation wells, the bulk of them largely sunk in the last five years. And among the many miracles, only last summer water which had been stored in a huge reservoir 10 years earlier on the upper Platte was drawn upon to satisfy the thirst of fields of corn averaging nearly 100 bushels to the acre.

This is our heritage handed down from an era of great adversity and hardship. Aside from all sentimentality, this is an economic refuge of incalculable value to Nebraska.

Unfortunately a Lincoln evening newspaper and an Omaha newspaper, seemingly without any knowledge of the early beginnings or the heartaches that became a part of the program, obtain a strange delight in exploiting the unfortunate controversy. We would like to think that the emphasis which they gave to this controversy could be attributed to a belief that this is a way to effect a cure. That is a little too much to ask, however. All we can conclude is that they overlook cheap power and irrigation in writing as they do because they do not know any better.

Guns And Butter

William J. Leavitt, a national figure in the field of home building, told the Senate Banking Committee that new home starts in February dropped to an annual rate of 910,000 and that March would see a greater decline. He was arguing that government pressure to curb inflation needs now to be relaxed lest it cross the threshhold to deflation and its consequence—depression.

Confined to this own field Mr. Leavitt certainly has a point. At this juncture the home building boom which has both occupied and delighted people upward of six years is back to 1949 which was anything but a good year for home construction. But the building industry is just now tasting a defeat which has plagued the farm economy since 1952. And there are other segments of the national economy that never shared in the good times that have mostly been enjoyed by big industry. And Mr. Leavitt has nothing to say about the constant and massive increase in consumer borrowing.

His testimony serves to illustrate the harrying problem of maintaining a full civilian peacetime economy while gearing the nation to military security. As military costs rise the problem of maintaining growth becomes more acute. Only a wealthy nation like the U.S. could attempt to maintain both but even this nation cannot expect to handle the problem with facility.

Atomic Charter

President Eisenhower only lately submitted to the Senate the charter of the International Atomic Energy Agency. It was in 1953, one recalls, that he thrilled a peace loving world when at the Geneva conference he outlined atoms for peace. It seems that four years is a long time to turn such an idea into action, but early or late the charter news is welcome.

The essence of the charter commits the United States to supply uranium 235 to nations agreeing to use it for the development of peaceful uses and to submit to an effective form of inspection to prevent diversion of the substance which is so precious to military minded forces.

At Rome the other day six European nations participated in a preliminary agreement envisioning an economic community. One of its provisions was joint development of atomic energy. The importance of this and the charter action can be best illustrated in the events of recent weeks when the closing of the Suez canal pitched Europe into a power crisis for lack of Middle East petroleum. Had atomic power development proceeded with the speed it should have Europe might have been spared its difficult experience.

Youth Week

In case you have been so informed this is national Salute to Youth Week—a time when adults who are always lecturing youth, lecture even harder. But the best observation seems to be that while there is youthful delinquency, there never has been as much of it as adult delinquency. And by far most of youth is pretty fine and decent, idealistic, honest and fair. We wish life would permit adults to be as good.

Early Hoffa Probe Stopped By GOP

WASHINGTON — One of the most significant backstage developments in the Teamster probe is that scandalous facts had been unearthed regarding Teamster Czar Jimmy Hoffa by the House Government Operations Committee in the early days of the Eisenhower administration. Then suddenly the probe was stopped.

Postmaster General Summerfield says he didn't stop it. The Republicans at that time controlled Congress. They stopped the probe. The individual GOP congressmen in charge of the probe didn't want to stop it, complained bitterly and publicly about the stoppage. But they were stopped anyway.

Here is what they had discovered at the time they were stopped.

Jimmy Hoffa, together with the Brotherhood of Electrical Workers, placed almost $20,000,000 of welfare funds with the Union Insurance Agency, Inc. between 1948-52. The partners operating this agency were Rose and Allen Dorfman, wife and son of Hoffa's intimate friend Paul Dorfman, who in turn is boss of the Waste Material Handlers Union in Chicago.

The insurance agency, in turn, placed its business with the Union Casualty Co. and the Union Public Service Co., organized by Leo Perlman, a refugee from Hitler, whose business, thanks largely to the Teamsters' welfare funds, mushroomed overnight.

His companies, in turn, paid Rose and Allen Dorfman and their agency "in excess of $1,000,000" in commissions and service fees between October 1949 and June 30 1953," according to the official finding of the House committee headed by Congressman Clare Hoffman, Michigan Republican.

"It was disclosed that approximately $101,000 in checks payable to Allen Dorfman were not deposited to the agency's bank accounts," the committee also reported.

When the congressmen asked Dorfman if he had paid this or any part of it to Jimmy Hoffa, he refused to answer. Time after time he pleaded the 5th amendment.

It was also disclosed that Perlman's insurance company made fees of $1,200,000 from the Teamsters' and Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' welfare funds. These funds which individual dues-paying members in Michigan and the central states had entrusted with Hoffa and with the IBEW for investment.

But suddenly, as the congressional committee was striking pay dirt, its operations were mysteriously and abruptly suspended. Said Committee Counsel William F. McKenna: "We were silenced before we could make public certain important financial-legal aspects of the Teamsters' operations."

Note — All this was known as early as 1953, yet no action was taken to suspend Dorfman's Waste Materials Handlers local charter in Chicago.

Labor Concerned Over Beck Case

WASHINGTON — What to do about Dave Beck is the least of George Meany's troubles.

The president of the AFL-CIO considers Teamster Beck expendable.

Meany was ready with his call for an AFL-CIO executive council meeting on Beck the minute Beck pleaded the Fifth Amendment. The labor leaders had been sure he would, for their information is that he has income tax troubles.

This would explain why Beck is so feverishly advertising his Republicanism. The senators can make him uncomfortable, perhaps even jail him briefly for contempt. But if his income taxes are not in order, the GOP attorney general, Herbert Brownell Jr., can menace both his liberty and the fortune about which Beck boasts so exuberantly.

The labor leaders will simply make it plain quickly and in all ways open to them that Beck's difficulties couldn't happen to a nicer guy as far as they are concerned. What they really will debate and ponder is what is likely to happen in the way of legislation as a result of the hearings.

☆ ☆ ☆

One school of thought suggests that it is safe to wait and see. The McClellan committee hearings are expected to continue for a year. Its recommendations will, therefore, reach Congress in an election year when the lawmakers seldom show a taste for drastic action in any field but tax cuts.

Others want to cooperate with such proved friends as Senators Paul Douglas, Illinois Democrat, and Irving Ives, New York Republican, on various cleanup measures the two senators proposed last year. One would require unions to register and make full disclosure of all union welfare funds.

Many labor leaders are already committed to support of this bill. They fully realize that the growing size of such funds represents a temptation it takes a strong man to resist.

☆ ☆ ☆

Meany, Walter Reuther, David Dubinsky and others who want to keep labor in politics also realize that the price is clean hands. These men want a voice in federal policy in the whole social and economic field; they know they won't get it if they use Labor's power merely for personal protection so they can do as they please in their individual unions.

Here is the real division between the so-called pro- and anti-labor members of Congress. The former welcome Labor's influence on legislation. The latter, just as sincerely, think Labor should participate in politics only as individuals, not as unions or a united labor movement.

Some Don't Forget Disabled Veterans

NEW YORK — PEOPLE . . . PLACES. . .THINGS. . .

There's a wonderful group around New York called the Veterans' Hospital Radio Guild. It has the memory of an elephant. It can remember 'way back to World War II and the Korean war, and recall that boys got hurt in those actions and still are lying in hospitals. Not too many remember such things.

The VHRG was started nearly a decade ago by a couple of warm-hearted show people named Jean Tighe and Carl Rigrod. It has 300 on its roster, including about 50 hard-core regulars.

They devote evenings and long weekends to visiting the nine vets' hospitals in the New York area not so much to entertain but to fight through the cloying ennui and pain and persuade the men themselves to provide entertainment for other veterans.

They get the vets to put on shows, on tape, to be played later as boys call for them. They supply the equipment, scripts, directors and the tender patience. They don't even have a station wagon in which to lug the necessary gear, but go by subway, bus, or walk. (P.S.—Anybody got an old wagon he's throwing away?)

Well, not too long ago a unit of the VHRG — after a hard day's work at regular jobs—made a long trip to a Brooklyn hospital and learned on arrival that the veterans there wanted to do "The Caine Mutiny Court Martial."

All were mental patients.

The special service officer okayed the request. Doubleday and Co. came through with permission to use the script free. A girl typed all through a weekend, making copies for the players.

As the rough edges of the play were rehearsed away it became apparent that the psycho playing Queeg was giving a performance which only Lloyd Nolan, who did it on the Broadway stage, or the late Humphrey Bogart, who graced the film version, could equal.

But the show was never recorded, for reasons perhaps unique in the annals of such endeavors. Just before the recording day, Queeg was declared sane and discharged.

If Toshio Ogatsu were caught doing 15 years ago what he's now doing in North Bergen, N.J., the F.B.I. would have closed in with guns blazing. Toshio, a fine Japanese gentleman, is toying around with several tons of explosives at the International Fireworks Co.

He is in charge of the Japanese Export Trade Recovery Office's contribution to certain festivities surrounding next month's international trade fair. Toshio will put on the biggest fireworks display New York has seen since 1909, a date which marked the 300th anniversary of Henrik Hudson's arrival and the centenary of Robert Fulton's steamer. There will be a 300 foot high Niagara spectacular, Mt. Fuji erupting, a huge goldfish with waving tail, flags of 60 nations, vast peacocks strutting about and so forth. The demonstration will be shot off from a barge in the Hudson at 100th Street, April 15, and should afford Toshio an opportunity to write a glowing report home to his sons, who are the 13th generation of Ogatsus in the firecracker business. The Ogatsu people became Japan's biggest name in fireworks just 20 years before the birth of George Washington, whose fireworks were later to dazzle the British.

JESUS LOVED THEM

Blind Bartimaeus

". . . And as he went out of Jericho with his disciples and a great number of people, blind Bartimaeus, the son of Timaeus, sat by the highway side begging." —Mark X:46

As it is to this day in the Holy Land, blindness was a common affliction in the time of Jesus.

It is easy to imagine the unpleasant appearance of Bartimaeus, the blind beggar of Jericho —the sightless, staring eyes, encrusted with dried secretion and infested with flies.

Probably the disciples turned away from him in disgust. But Jesus perceived the strong light of faith that shone through his inner darkness, and led him, through his feelings, to know that he was in the presence of the Master.

It is evident that Bartimaeus did so recognize Jesus, for he addressed Him by his Messianic title:

"Jesus, thou Son of David, have mercy on me."

Mark tells in his gospel that "many charged him that he should hold his peace." But blind Bartimaeus, groping towards the Radiance that suddenly shone in the heaven of his personal night, would not be suppressed. He cried out louder than ever.

"And Jesus stood still, and commanded him to be called. And they call the blind man, saying unto him, Be of good comfort, rise; he calleth thee.

"And he, casting away his garment, rose, and came to Jesus.

"And Jesus answered and said unto him, What wilt thou that I should do unto thee? The blind man said unto him, Lord, that I might receive my sight.

"And Jesus said unto him, Go thy way; thy faith hath made thee whole. And immediately he received his sight, and followed Jesus in the way."

In our day, it is by such faith as that of this blind beggar of Jericho that we receive our spiritual sight, and can follow Him "in the way."

More Investigations

Blair, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We have been told of alleged corruption in high places in the labor movement in this nation. As this story unfolds before the senatorial investigation committee, it is hoped that action will be taken in and out of government against wrong doing.

This failure on the part of officials of some labor organization does not mean that labor organizations are all corrupt or that they are not a force for good, if properly headed.

I would like to see other such investigations by our representatives in Washington. For instance, why not such an exhaustive probing of the increase in cost of gasoline recently? Why not a thorough check on the oil lobby in Congress?

Why not an investigation of why McCarthy has been so completely bottled up and why no further check on Communists? Why not a really good check on some of the private corporations who are getting the huge negotiated defense contracts and how they get them and the profits? Why not a good look at the foreign aid lobby and how our foreign aid funds are dispersed? Why not a good investigation of General Motors, Standard Oil of New Jersey, and Douglas Aircraft?

Yes, the Republicans played Communism out of proportion; now we are doing the same with labor. Let's cover the waterfront, but good.

Young, But Human

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: Why become zombies? A person who will not change is like a baby who never grows up. Our mothers are wearing new hair-do's created in Italy — red, bleached, black—not gray, which is nature's blend—clothes by Christian Dior, ink-pot hats, lost-hipline coats, hats like Dad's old hat, turned up Andy Devine fashion.

It is said that we teen-agers have unsure personalities. We like our hair a little longer and are going back into the old era for a change of styles. It seems to us that it may be the grown-ups who are the more unsure, running to psychologists and ministers for help with their problems. But remember — spanking is supposed to thwart or inhibit our personalities.

You broad-minded people — remember that we are human, too, and perhaps have more brains than you give us credit for. We're your next generation. Have a good word of praise for us occasionally. You're going to have to live with us.

Danger Points

Lincoln, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: We have some danger points in Lincoln that I think could be remedied. One is at 27th and A Sts. where there are three lanes of traffic. One is for northbound traffic; one, the center lane, is for turning left onto A St.; and the third is for southbound traffic, or for traffic turning right onto A St. How many times, especially during rush hours, have you been in the southbound lane and found that the cars in the center lane were also expecting to proceed south? This they will do at the expense of your life and limb!

The same situation exactly exists at 27th and Holdrege, where the three lanes run east and west Another danger point is at 17th and R where three lanes of traffic divide (supposedly), the west lane turning to go west on R St., and the other two lanes proceeding north on 17th. The theory is fine — how unfortunate that in practice it doesn't work, because more times than not the west lane traffic comes on north also. The fourth danger point is at 16th and Y where you are supposed to be able to see approaching traffic if your vehicle is opposite the stop sign. In practice this is impossible because the parked cars and jumble of trucks keep you from seeing far enough on the curve of 16th St. to be safe.

What is the solution? More and better traffic signs? Painted signs on the pavement? More police officers? Publicity? As citizens we can insist on our right of way, but it may be the last rites we will ever have!

Leaky Canoe

Imperial, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: In reply to "Tax Tired's" letter of March 22 stating that it is time farmers paddle their own canoe—is it thought that farmers should take eggs to market and be content with 20 to 40 per cent of their retail value, or be satisfied with four cents out of a 24-cent loaf of bread?

Is this "paddling their own canoe"?

Yes, I would drive a new car more often, too, if I could ask for my products and labor the same price that organized labor gets, the same return on my invested capital that insurance companies receive. But if I could do that, I suppose "Tax Tired" wouldn't think much of "farmers paddling their own canoe."

HARD-WORKING TAXPAYER

☆ ☆ ☆

Bills, Bills, Bills

North Loup, Neb.

To the editor of The Lincoln Star: About 600 bills have been introduced in the Nebraska Unicameral. And what for? It seems certain that many of our lawmakers did not know what it was all about. But when they knocked out the Board of Control, they hit the nail on the head for once. Let's give them credit for this.

The gasoline tax should be lowered, not raised. It is unthinkable to consider raising it when the farmers have been in such a bad way the past two years. To raise the gas tax would not be holding the line for economy. We are now paying eight cents per gallon, including the federal tax.

We are hoping the governor will veto the sales and income tax bills as well as any proposal to increase the gas tax.

Medical Expert Says Dr. Adams Turned Wealthy Widow Into Drug Addict

LONDON (INS) — A medical expert called by the crown testified Wednesday he came to the conclusion Dr. John Bodkin Adams turned a wealthy widow into a drug addict in order to "terminate her life."

The patient, Mrs. Edith Morrell, 81, died in 1950 after a long illness, including a stroke. Dr. Adams is being tried on charges of killing her with overdoses of narcotics so he could benefit under terms of her will.

The prosecution's medical expert, Dr. Arthur Henry Douthwaite, completely silenced the tense old Bailey courtroom as he testified in a firm, quiet voice.

Sir Reginald Mannungham-Buller asked the expert:

"What conclusion do you draw from the dosage administered, according to the nurses' reports, in the last few days before Mrs. Morrell's death, as to the intention with which that dosage must have been prescribed."

'Terminate'

Douthwaite replied: "The only conclusion I can come to is that his (Dr. Adams') intention was to terminate her life."

Asked whether, in his opinion, Mrs. Morrell had become an "addicted patient" by June 20, 1949, Douthwaite said:

"Yes, fully."

"And dependent on the doctor's administration."

"Yes," said the witness.

The medical expert's testimony had its effect on defense plans.

Defense counsel Geoffrey Lawrence, who for eight days has been denting the testimony of previous witnesses by incisive, astute cross-examination, asked for and was granted permission to postpone questioning of Douthwaite.

The defendant gave no concrete sign that he was perturbed. Dr. Adams, who has pleaded innocent to the charges, in fact expects to be acquitted. It was learned he purchased a small car a few days ago and told the salesman he intended to be taking a long trip "very soon."

'Keep Her Doped'

Discussing previous testimony that Mrs. Morrell had received heroin and morphia, Douthwaite said it seemed to him the only reason heroin was prescribed, "in simple language, was to keep her doped."

He added:

"Heroin should not be given to people over 70 unless they are suffering from some incurable disease."

The medical expert also was questioned about the treatment of Mrs. Morrell after she had suffered a cerebral thrombosis in 1948.

He said there was "no justification for injection of morphia and heroin immediately after" such a stroke.

He said it would be "wrong in all circumstances," pointing out such injections would "greatly interfere with any rehabilitation."

Ex-Lincolnite Paul D. Pyche Rites In California

Funeral services for Paul D. Pyche, 53, of Los Angeles, Calif., former Lincoln insurance executive, will be held Friday in Los Angeles, with burial there.

Mr. Pyche died Tuesday in Los Angeles after a week's illness following a heart attack.

A prominent insurance man in Lincoln, he had been manager of the State Auto Insurance Co. here and also of the Hawkeye Insurance Co., which had headquarters in Linclon.

A native of Brazil, Ind., he was a graduate of Doane College.

He was a past president of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce and had been active in Red Cross, Salvation Army and Community Chest work while in Lincoln.

Since moving to Los Angeles 13 years ago, he had operated an insurance agency.

Surviving are his wife, Margaret of Los Angeles; son, Robert W. Pyche of Lincoln; mother, Mrs. H. H. Pyche of West Point; sisters, Miss Ruth Pyche of Tallahassee, Fla., and Mrs. Art Leisy of West Point.

House Cuts $14 Million From Labor's Spending

WASHINGTON (AP) — A House budget-cutting drive shaved another $14,391,800 Wednesday from new appropriations for the Labor Department. The drive was still going strong when the House halted for the day.

Wednesday's reductions, all adding to cuts previously voted by the House Appropriations Committee, boosted to $14,808,100 the cuts made in two days.

The announced objective of the drive is to lop from 75 million to 100 million dollars from a bill originally appropriating $2,862,502,881 in new funds for the Labor Department, the Department of Health, Education and Welfare, and several minor agencies.

This 75-100 million cut would be in addition to $118,774,700 chopped off by the Appropriations Committee before the bill reached the House floor.

House leaders hoped to finish the bill Thursday, when amendments affecting huge appropriations for welfare programs will be considered.

Four amendments adopted Wednesday by standing vote were aimed, as were four others approved Tuesday, at funds which mainly would have permitted personnel expansion. Most of them would have the effect, if sustained on a final vote and approved by the Senate, of holding 1958 appropriations to their 1957 levels despite expansion of some programs ordered by Congress last year.

All the votes were tentative, and Rep. Fogarty (D-RI), floor manager of the bill, announced he would demand roll call counts Thursday.

Wednesday's action made these cuts: $442,000 from the Bureau of Employment Statistics, $12,186,000 from funds for grants to states to pay administrative costs of unemployment compensation and employment service programs, $1,500,000 from funds for payment of unemployment compensation to government workers, and $263,800 from funds to administer the Mexican farm labor program.

Most of the reductions had almost solid backing from Republicans and from the southern Democrat wing.

Voice Vote

A move to kill the Mexican farm labor program, by refusing any funds to administer it, lost by a voice vote after assurances that the House might get a chance later to consider changing the program so users of the imported labor would pay more of the overhead. The federal government now pays almost one-half of the overhead.

Fogarty called the $12,186,000 cut in unemployment compensation administration grants "phony" and said it might have to be restored in a subsequent bill. The reduction cut the compensation grant allotment to about 250 million dollars, 20 million less than the President had requested.

The funds knocked out by the House had been earmarked to pay for estimated increases in the workload of cases and for salary raises for state employes who administer the programs.

"Piecemeal"

Fogarty opposed all the amendments and told the House that President Eisenhower, at his news conference Wednesday, had criticized "piecemeal" budget cuts as "fatuous and the most foolish kind of economy." The President, he added, either had deserted Republicans in the House of they had deserted him by voting for the reductions.

Fogarty referred to a remark Eisenhower made in discussing prospects for budget cutting. The President said it is essential to look at entire programs which have been authorized by Congress, and he added:

"To say you are going to save a few millions here and a few millions there, I think is the poorest kind of economy we can find. . . It is just fatuous to get up and say we are just going to save all this money, and then not do something about federal responsibilities already given to us."

Bishop Kennedy St. Paul 100th Year Preacher

Bishop Gerald Kennedy, former pastor of St. Paul Methodist Church, will preach at the 11 a.m. service Sunday on "Christ Meets a Skeptic." The service will begin the 100th anniversary celebration of St. Paul Methodist Church.

Bishop Kennedy

Bishop Kennedy will also speak at the Kiwanis Club Friday noon at the Chamber of Commerce.

A fellowship tea will be held Sunday afternoon at the church honoring Bishop and Mrs. Kennedy. The tea will be held in the church parlors from 5 to 7 p.m.

CONSTIPATED?

new laxative discovery un-locks bowel blocks

without gag, bloat or gripe

Constipation is caused by what doctors call a "thrifty" colon. A "thrifty" colon is one that, instead of retaining moisture as it should, does the opposite: robs the colon of so much moisture that its contents become dehydrated, so dry that they block the bowel; so shrunken that they fail to excite or stimulate the urge to purge that propels and expels waste from your body.

TO REGAIN NORMAL REGULARITY two things are necessary. First, the dry, shrunken contents of your colon which now block your bowel must be re-moistened. Second, bulk must be brought to your colon to S-T-R-E-T-C-H STIMULATE it and so, excite its muscles to action; to a normal urge to purge.

AND, OF ALL LAXATIVES, only COLONAID, the amazing new laxative discovery possesses COLONAID'S great moisturizing capacity plus COLONAID'S stretch-stimulating bulk that activates normal colonic reflexes. So effective that it relieves even chronic constipation overnight, COLONAID is yet so smooth, so gentle it has been proved safe even for women in the most critical stages of pregnancy.

SUPERIOR TO OLD STYLE bulk, salt or drug laxatives, COLONAID neither gags, bloats nor gripes; does not interfere with your absorption of vitamins and other valuable food nutrients; and in clinical tests, did not cause rash or other side reactions.

IT'S A PHYSIOLOGICAL FACT! Exercise tones your body! And COLONAID exercises your colon to tone it against constipation, overnight! Whether occasional, frequent or chronic, whatever your degree of constipation, get COLONAID, in easy-to-take tablet form at any drug counter, today! The price, only 98c for the economical 60 tablet package, brings you positive relief at less than 2c per tablet.

PUBLIC MAY HEAR FINALS OF MOOT COURT CONTEST

The final round of the Allen Moot Court competition among University of Nebraska Law College students, to be held before State Supreme Court justices at 7:30 p.m. Thursday, will be open to the public.

Contestants are Dominico Caporale of Omaha and Willard Lorenson of Lincoln versus Marshall Becker of Omaha and Norman Krivosha of Lincoln.

Hearing the arguments in the Supreme Court Hearing Room at the Capitol will be Justices Paul E. Boslaugh, Fred W. Messmore and Adolph Wenke.

City Cases

The case will involve the questions of whether a city may prefer local businessmen in awarding contracts even though an out-of-town bidder makes a lower bid and whether councilmen should reimburse a city for money paid out by them on an illegal contract.

Quarterfinals to select two sophomore teams to compete in the finals next spring were started Wednesday, when William Dill of Lincoln and Robert Hill of Colorado Springs won over Joseph Baldwin of Omaha and Francis Barrett of Greeley.

Competing at 1 p.m. Friday in the Law College building will be Philip Sorensen of Lincoln, Thompson Snyder of Omaha and Richard Walentine of Lihcoln versus Dwain Jones and David Keene, both of Lincoln.

Winning freshman teams in the first round of the Moot Court, held earlier:

Harlan Hubka, Beatrice, and Wincel Nelson, Lincoln.

James Duggan, Lincoln, and Charles Kokes, Atkinson.

Charles Beal, Broken Bow, and Richard Fellman, Omaha.

Tony Winey, Shelton, and James Winter, Lincoln.

Thomas David, North Platte, and Dick Hartsock, Fremont.

Gretchen Christopher, Schuyler, Arlyss Welch, Omaha, and Rose Green, Lincoln.

Edward Heitman, Crete, and John Mingus, Ravenna.

Lawrence Sandberg, Lincoln, and Butler Shaffer, Lincoln.

Dr. William Swindler, Lincoln, and Gwendell Hohensee, Lincoln.

Alvin Rose, Omaha, and Charles Russell, Lincoln.

Duane Feichtinger, Beatrice, and William Anderson, Wakefield.

Weather Ahead

Extended forecast for Nebraska: Temperatures will average near or slightly below normal, with gradual warming tendency and minor day to day changes. Normal highs range from the low 50s along the northern border to the upper 50s in the southwest, and normal lows from middle 20s in the Panhandle to the low to middle 30s in the southeast. Precipitation will be light, occurring as showers Friday or Saturday with amounts of less than .10 of an inch.

POSTCARD

The financial page of the dailies does not survey as high in readership as the comic page. But us financiers can't get along without it.

I am a financier, having purchased three shares of FordMot. FordMot on the morning line is 59 having dropped ⅜s. What is happening at River Rouge?

When this happens, we financiers look very serious. We order the No. 3 breakfast without ham. Instead of the No. 4 with ham. Everyone must make his sacrifices in times of stress. And we are sensitive people.

☆ ☆ ☆

The Young Presidents Organization is meeting in White Sulphur Springs. I was not invited. I was not invited to any Old Presidents either.

The Young Presidents found 45 per cent of their members are planning mergers.

"There is a feeling of need to attain a certain critical size," said the Young Presidents.

This feeling has not hit me yet. I have been a critical size most of my adult life. Either I get too fat. Or I get too thin. It is always critical.

I got to be a Young President very simply. And became an Old President simply by getting older. The way it happened was like this:

I was visiting the mouthpiece one day.

"You should have a corporation," he said.

It was one of those critical times when I had been belting the French pastry and was in no mood for criticism.

"I think this double-breasted suit hides it sufficiently," I said stiffly. "Besides I am not really fat. Simply a few pounds that seems to go to the Derby Kelly."

"I mean a real corporate corporation."

"Those tax exemption things?"

"That is not exactly the way we put it," said the lip with a smile. "Though it is true that corporate taxes are less than personal income. It is a matter of sound business to be incorporated. You can be President."

There he had me. Ah, the vanity of man!"

"A real President?"

"And Chairman of the Board," he said.

☆ ☆ ☆

That is how I became a young President. And Young Chairman of the Board."

A good many Old Presidents have asked me about this. Down at the club when we are belting the new asparagus milanaise and other good things that Presidents belt.

"How did you get in the President dodge?"

All I can answer is: "I was very young, Mr. President."

☆ ☆ ☆

I am still President and Chairman of the Board. Though no longer so young.

My corporation pays taxes and holds annual stockholder meetings.

My stockholders and officers are members of my immediate family. At times I have to quell various proxy revolts.

"What about dividends?" I have been asked. "How's about slicing a melon?"

"How's about that bill you ran up with Saks?" is my presidential reply. "How's about the gas light bill last month, eh?"

This puts them in their place.

U.S. Business Leader Recommends Aid To Southeast Asia Be Cut In Half

WASHINGTON (INS) — A top American business leader recommended Wednesday that the dollar volume of U.S. aid to Southeast Asia be cut "by at least half" in the next two years and that loans replace money grants.

The proposals were made by Clement Johnston, chairman of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce, in a 35-page report to the Senate's Special Foreign Aid Committee, which assigned him to survey Southeast Asian needs. His is one of ten regional reports.

Johnston reported that the "time seems ripe" for substantial reductions in military troops and equipment in this troubled are, now that the Southeast Asia Treaty Organization is in operation. Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia and Thailand now receive military aid.

He said: "The time is clearly at hand to start a prompt and rapid tapering off of United States aid, both military and economic, if the countries are ever to learn to stand on their own feet. Unpleasant as the process may be, it will be a real kindness to certain of these countries if we 'talk tough' and give them the real unvarnished facts of economic existence."

Johnston surveyed Burma, Thailand, South Viet Nam, Laos, Cambodia, and Indonesia during November and December of 1956.

Emphasizing there are no "easy answers" to the problems of the region, he concluded that the original programs were "necessary" and that results have justified the large expenditures involved.

"An otherwise inevitable collapse has been postponed and possibly prevented," he said. But he added that the improvement in the security situation has brought a "new phase" in which to "build more slowly and more soundly." He held that:

1. Dollar volume of aid "can and should be reduced by at least half during the next two years."

2. Increasing emphasis should be placed on education and technical assistance. Self-reliance should be stressed.

3. Loans should replace money grants and "except in case of famine or other disasters, large movements of commodities should be governed by trade agreements rather than handed out as direct gifts."

4. The greatest opportunity for economic recovery and a "quick, cheap, and bloodless triumph" over communism would be to give private enterprise a chance to operate there they would. He said this is being neglected, too many people believing that "capitalism" and "colonialism" are synonymous.

5. Except for Thailand, "a worsening of the economic situation may be expected throughout this whole rich and potentially productive area."

Youthful Mock Legislators To Hear 22 Bills On Wide Variety Of Topics

Twenty-two bills — advocating everything from a lowered voting age to increased parimutuel taxes —will come up before the Mock Legislature of the University of Nebraska Friday and Saturday.

Student Governor Jack Pollock said that committees formed by students from independent houses and fraternities and sororities are now studying and acting upon the bills which will come up before student senators at mock unicameral sessions at the Student Union and in the senate chamber of the Capitol.

Some of the bills before the student governmental sessions will be: a combined sales and corporate income tax; a combined sales and income tax; legalization of bingo; reduction of voting age to 18; abolishment of capital punishment; establishment of a partisan legislature; removal of restrictions on inter-racial marriage and raising of state parimutuel betting tax.

Pollock estimates that 30 lobbyists, backing the 22 bills, will be active during the week in defending their proposals. The 43 student senators will meet in a final session at the capitol at 9 a.m. Saturday.

Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney will speak to the students at the 3 p.m. Friday session at the Student Union. Hugo Srb, clerk of the legislature, will address the Saturday session at the capitol.

The mock legislative session is being sponsored by NUCWA, the University of Nebraska Council on World Affairs. Other mock officers elected recently are Bob Ireland of Lincoln, lieutenant governor and Mary McKnight of Auburn, secretary of state.

HERBERT RONIN

Ronin Will Head Salvation Army

Judge Herbert Ronin was named chairman of the Salvation Army board of directors at Wednesday night's annual meeting. Other new officers are Dr. George Rosenlof, vice chairman; Byron Dunn, treasurer, and Mrs. Genie McGlasson, secretary.

Mrs. Schmidt, 90, Funeral Friday

Funeral services for Mrs. Marie Schmidt, 90, of 3155 No. 48th, will be held 11 a.m. Friday at Hodgman-Splain, with the Rev. Arthur G. Crisp officiating. Burial will be in Wyuka.

Mrs. Schmidt, a Lincoln resident since 1891, died Wednesday. She was the widow of Otto Schmidt.

Surviving are two grandchildren and one great-grandchild.

THERE'S nice news this morning—and it begins with guests—Hear that Mr. and Mrs. Ted Welton and their two children, son Mark and daughter, Lindsay, will be arriving on Friday to be the guests of Mrs. Welton's mother, Mrs. F. H. Deurmyer.

The Weltons come to Lincoln from San Francisco, where they have been residing, and are en route to New York City where Mr. Welton has been transferred.

Mr. Welton, by the way, will be in town just for the weekend, but Mrs. Welton (the former Kay Deurmyer—Delta Delta Delta at Nebraska) and her children will remain for a longer visit.

* * *

BACK in town today will be Miss Clara Miskell and Miss Berna Miskell who have had a month's holiday in Hawaii—and on the west coast.

* * *

THIS is the morning that Miss Barbara Stephens, whose marriage to Jerry Solomon will take place at the Westminster Presbyterian Church on May 18, makes announcement of the bridal attendants.

For her matron of honor Miss Stephens has chosen her cousin, Mrs. William Seiboldt (Mickey Walt). Mrs. Eugene Gessner will be the bridesmatron, and Miss Judy Lundt will be the bridesmaid.

James Solomon of Culbertson will serve his brother as best man, and the ushers will include John Solomon of Scottsbluff and Eugene Solomon of Culbertson, also brothers of the bridegroom; Philip Stephens, brother of the bride; H. W. Harrington of Grand Island; Leo Geier of Baltimore, Md., and Wayne Eisenhart.

* * *

AMONG the many early April courtesies for Miss Stephens will be the dessert supper and crystal shower for which Mrs. Richard O. Johnson and her daughter, Mrs. William Olson will be hostesses on Friday evening, April 5, at the home of Mrs. Johnson. The guests will include a group of friends of the bride-elect and her mother, Mrs. Robert Stephens.

A SATURDAY party which will pay courtesy to Miss Hanna Rosenberg, whose marriage to David Gradwohl will be an event of the late summer, also will honor Miss Dubinsky, who has chosen April 14 as the date of her marriage to James Rodenberg, and their hostess will be Miss Nellie Newmark. Miss Newmark has invited eight guests for luncheon at the University Club.

* * *

HONORING Miss Dubinsky on Sunday evening will be Mr. and Mrs. Julian Lyons and Mr. and Mrs. Max Rosenblum who will be dinner hosts and hostesses at Hotel Cornhusker. The small group of guests will include members of the families.

COURTESY FOR LEE SPENCER

We do hope that among the attractive baskets presented to Miss Lee Spencer on Tuesday evening there was one little yellow one — reminiscent of the "Tisket a Tasket" era. But yellow or not there were baskets in a variety of shapes and sizes from picnic hampers to bird cages and the hostesses for the ingenious shower were Mrs. David Carr and Miss JoAnn Saathoff who entertained at the home of Mrs. Carr.

In the picture, standing —left to right—Miss Gerry Schliefert, Miss Ruth Nelson, Mrs. Julius Samuels—and seated on arm of chair, Mrs. Peter Vincent.

THE STAR IN SUBURBIA

The long, winding trail through Suburbia seems to wind up at destination Eastborough each Thursday morning. To begin our trek this week we will tell you about the new residents out in the neighborhood.

Moving into their new home at 900 Northborough Lane the first of March were Maj. and Mrs. Charles W. Jackson and their two children, Anne and Grace. Maj. Jackson, a transfer from James Connally Air Force Base in Waco, Tex., now is stationed at Lincoln Air Force Base.

Off to Exeter this morning were Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stetina Jr., Ricky and Diane. Understand the Stetinas will join Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hromadka and their three children, Pamela, Patricia and Connie of Friend to extend courtesy to Mr. Stetina's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Stetina Sr., who are celebrating their 37th wedding anniversary at their home in Exeter.

Recently entertaining at a neighborhood coffee was Mrs. Marvin Kelle. Guests for the morning visit were Mrs. Lewis Moorberg, Mrs. Pat Stephenson, Mrs. Gordon Wilkinson, Mrs. Arthur Whisennand, Mrs. A. R. Way, Mrs. Benjamin Potts and her mother, Mrs. J. E. T. Clark.

Mention of the coffee reminds us that one of the guests, Mrs. J. E. T. Clark, made an extended visit in the neighborhood. Mrs. Clark arrived in January to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Benjamin Potts, and their children, Janis and Benny; and returned to her home in Coalgate, Okla., last week.

And another guest in Eastborough was Miss Marilyn Andersen, who spent last week end visiting Mr. and Mrs. Robert Longman. Miss Anderson is a sophomore student at Kearney State Teachers College.

Dessert and bridge will provide entertainment for the Eastborough Bridge Club members this evening. The group will meet at the home of Mrs. Joseph Ritter where the co-hostess will be Mrs. E. J. Marty. Other members are Mrs. Richard Connin, Mrs. Robert Longman, Mrs. Harry Rust, Mrs. Robert Bridges, Mrs. Robert Hartsock, Mrs. Jack Robison and Mrs. Eugene Roche.

It was on Wednesday when Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Pflug of York were guests of their son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Ritter. After an informal dinner and visit, the two couples made a trip to Omaha to attend the Ice Capades.

We're going to conclude our morning excursion through Eastborough with news concerning the younger set. Monday, April 1, will be a very exciting day for Miss Gayle Ann McKinzie and Miss Mary Patricia Robinson, for on that afternoon they will be honored at the McKinzie home in celebration of their fifth birthdays. Mrs. Rodger McKinzie and Mrs. Robert Robinson have been busy making umbrellas, favors and other decorations for the "April Showers" party theme. Guests for the afternoon will be Keitha Grady, Laura Johnson, Roxanne and Cindy Edee, May and David Turner, Margaret Skappell, Donna and Mary Shilling, Walt Peterson, Gayle's brothers, Peter, Timmy and Bobby, and Mary's brothers, Dan and Mark.

Turkish Air Attache Visits Air Guard

By DEL HARDING
Star Staff Writer

Lincoln's Air National Guard unit played host Wednesday to Maj. Agasi Sen, assistant Turkish air attache to America.

Sen was accompanied by Maj. John W. Matthews of the ANG Bureau in Washington, who termed the Lincoln unit one of the leading ANG squadrons in the country. Matthews and Sen are on a six-day jet tour of ANG bases throughout the country.

They are touring the bases to allow Sen to observe ANG training and operational methods, Matthews reported. The majors left Washington Tuesday and their schedule calls for visits at St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo., Lincoln, Salt Lake City, Fresno, Calif., and Reno, Nev., before returning in their T-33 jet trainer to Washington.

Matthews said Lincoln was included on the itinerary because of the squadron's high rating among the 94 such bases in the U.S. Only one other ANG base besides Lincoln he pointed out, has been assigned F-86D Sabrejet fighters. The unit here is in the process of receiving about 20 of the planes to replace its F-80s.

ANG base commander Lt. Col. Fred Bailey Jr. and Capt. L. L. Johnson, state administrative assistant of the ANG, showed the visitors around the new hangar, located south of the Municipal Airport. It was completed only last September at a cost of about $1.5 million.

SNOW THAWS, HELPING CREWS TO CLEAN UP

KANSAS CITY (INS) — Thawing temperatures aided work crews to restore rail and highway traffic to near normal conditions Wednesday in the Great Plains and Midwest where 36 persons died during a crippling three-day blizzard.

Officials said the final death toll might not be known until Thursday as rescue crews continued operations in areas where drifting snows marooned thousands of motorists.

Property and livestock damages could not as yet be estimated.

Some stockmen reported entire herds were lost during the devastating storm.

Red Premier Says Ike, Mac Met To Plot

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet Premier Bulganin asserted Wednesday night President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Macmillan plotted further "subversive and provocative" actions against Communist countries in their Bermuda talks.

He said the Bermuda conference was aimed at renewing the cold war against Communism.

Bulganin also joined with Hungary's visiting Premier Janos Kadar in lambasting "some Yugoslav leaders" for their attitude toward last October's Hungarian revolt. The Soviet premier followed Kadar to the microphone at a Soviet-Hungarian rally in the Kremlin.

Copper Price Up

NEW YORK (INS)—Copper was sold by custom smelters Wednesday at 30¾ cents a pound, advance of ¼ cents from the 30½ cent quotation established Monday. The action followed rising prices on the London Metal Exchange which reflected prospects of labor difficulties over a new wage contract at Kennecott Copper's big Chilean Braden copper mine. The present contract expires March 31.

'Trinity Of Heart Problems' Killed 800,000 In 1956

OMAHA (INS) — Dr. Edgar V. Allen, president of the American Heart Association, said in Omaha Wednesday that high blood pressure, hardening of the arteries and rheumatic heart disease caused 90 per cent of the heart ailments which killed 800 thousand persons last year.

Dr. Allen called the three the "trinity of heart problems" and said the only way to lick them is through research.

He said 60 per cent of the association's heart fund collections go for research.

Dr. Allen was a speaker at a nine-state meeting of the association.

Withdrawn

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—A small advertisement in the personals column of the Chronicle read:

"Reward offer withdrawn as of March 26, 1957. Elsie Abbott."

Mrs. Abbott was the mother of Burton W. Abbott, 29, executed in the San Quentin prison gas chamber March 15 for the kidnap-murder of 15-year-old Stephanie Bryan.

The Abbott family, contending Burton was innocent, had offered a $2,500 reward for information "establishing the innocence" of the accused man.

Harvey Hardesty Pleads Guilty To Embezzlement

Harvey A. Hardesty, 23, of 1215 Peach pleaded guilty in Lancaster District Court to an embezzlement charge.

Hardesty was charged with embezzling during February more than $100 as agent for C. F. Wahl, his landlord and employer. Wahl resides at 1215 Peach.

Police said Hardesty claimed he had been assaulted and robbed of the money, but that an investigation showed his story was unfounded.

Judge Harry Spencer ordered Hardesty held in custody pending a pre-sentence investigation by the adult probation officer.

Bullet-Torn Body Found

NAPERVILLE, Ill. (INS) — The bullet-torn body of a 45-year-old man was found Wednesday in the driveway of a Naperville judge.

Dupage County Sheriff Elmer Rosen reported that the victim did not carry any means of identification but said his name was traced through an eyeglass case found in his pocket.

Rosen said the man was Ben Titus of Kansas City, Mo. He was described by Rosen "as a drifter and a man with a long police record."

Rosen added that the fingerprints checked with Chicago police records. Titus had done six months in Chicago in 1938 for petty larceny.

The sheriff added that a later check showed that five bullets were pumped into the victim's head and chest.

A water softener salesman discovered the body in the driveway of Dupage County Circuit Judge Mel Abrahamson.

Lodge Says Middle East Situation Still Dangerous

By PIERRE J. HUSS

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (INS)—U.S. Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge said Wednesday the Middle East situation is still "dangerous" but expressed optimism the United Nations can resolve all outstanding issues and bring lasting peace to the area.

In an exclusive interview with this correspondent, the chief Eisenhower administration spokesman at U.N. said the existence of the world organization probably prevented the outbreak of a new global conflict when Britain, France and Israel invaded Egypt.

He pointed to the "danger of violent reaction" at that time not only from the Arab countries but also from Russia. Lodge declared:

"If the United Nations had not existed we might well be at war today . . . "

"If the United Nations were to disappear today it is clear to me that war would be impossible to prevent. . . "

Paid Off

The U.S. envoy gave his views on both the Middle East crisis and the Hungarian problem in the course of the interview. Asked if he felt the U.S. decision to rely on the United Nations to avert a Mideast war had paid off, he replied:

"I believe that our reliance on the United Nations (which involves our own active participation in it) has begun to pay off. When the invasion of Egypt occurred there was danger of violent reaction from the Arab countries and from the Soviet Union — and possibly from other countries as well because, when standards of international order are lowered, it is impossible to tell what country may next decide to take the law into its own hands.

"When the invading forces finally withdrew, the world thereby took a turn away from war."

In acknowledging that "the situation is still dangerous," Lodge said, "a great deal of self-restraint is necessary on both sides to extend the progress we have already made and to make possible a degree of tranquility such as that part of the world has not known for a long time."

But, he added, "if we can do that, then our bet on the United Nations will have paid off many times over. If the United Nations had not existed we might well be at war today."

Lodge, asked if he felt the Eisenhower administration's foreign policy should shift toward or away from U.N. on major disputes where the security interests of only the big powers are involved said "there simply is no question which involves only the security interests of the big powers."

He explained: "Anything which endangers the security of the big powers is at least as much of a danger to the small powers. It follows that no question should be excluded from the agenda of the United Nations simply because it is a 'big-power' question.

"Almost every year the Soviet Union has leveled outrageous charges against us in the United Nations, and we have always accepted the challenge — with the result that the Soviet charges have been rejected in the Assembly by overwhelming votes. This always means a gain in United States prestige and a loss in Soviet prestige in the United Nations."

Baseball's Early Cut-Down Date Helping Farm Clubs

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Baseball's new regulation requiring big league clubs to cut down to 28 players by opening day already is working to the advantage of the minor leagues.

In the past three days, minor league clubs have received more than 30 players from their big brothers, who will have to unload the rest of their excess baggage by April 15. In the past, the big leaguers carried as many as 40 athletes until May 15, the required 25-player cutdown date.

The new rule means the teams can carry 28 players after April 15 with each club having to reduce its roster to 25 by the middle of May. These totals do not include players on the national defense list who may be carried additionally by the teams.

More than half of the major league clubs have participated in the paring process, led by the St. Louis Cardinals who have sent 10 players to three farm clubs.

St. Louis sent infielder Ron Plaza, catcher Gene Green and pitcher Bob Blaylock to Rochester. Pitchers Ted Wieand and Phil Clark and first baseman Pidge Browne to Houston of the Texas League and Frank Barnes, Marty Kutyna and Lynn Lovenguth, all pitchers, to Omaha of the American Assn. Pitcher Gary Geiger, who is to be converted to the outfield, also was shipped to the International League's Rochester team.

Lovenguth's transfer may surprise some, since the veteran righthander was believed to have nailed down a job in the Cards bullpen. He won 23 games for Toronto of the International League last year.

The Cincinnati Redlegs have lopped off nine players. Outfielder Chico Alvarez and pitcher Vince Amor were sent to Havana of the International League. Pitchers Charley Rabe and John Brechin and infielder Bobby Durnbaugh went to Seattle (PCL). Pitchers Charley Davis and Bill Cooke moved to Nashville (AA) and Ralph Mason and John Claset, two other moundsmen, got orders to report to the club's minor league camp in Douglas, Ga.

The Detroit Tigers have let go of five players—infielders George Risley and Inman Veal and outfielder Roy Hawes to Charleston (AA) and outfielder Ken Walters and pitcher Larry Donovan who were sent to the Tigers minor league base for reassignment.

Milwaukee lopped off infielders Buck Riddle and Joe Morgan and outfielder Earl Hersh to Wichita of the American Assn. and catcher Sammy Taylor, who was assigned to Atlanta of the Southern Assn.

Cleveland unloaded infielder Rudy Regalado, catcher Earl Averill and pitchers Dolan Nichols and Gene Lary, brother of Detroit's mound ace Frank Lary. All were sent to Seattle of the PCL.

The Chicago White Sox switched infielder Don Prohovich and catcher John Romano to Indianapolis (AA). The Boston Red Sox moved pitcher Leo Kiely to San Francisco (PCL) and pitcher Bob Adubato to Oklahoma City of the Texas League. The Baltimore Orioles transferred outfielder Angelo Dagres to Knoxville of the Southern Assn. and infielder Bob Caffery to San Antonio of the Texas League.

The New York Giants have let seven players go, each of whom was sent to the team's minor league base in Sanford, Fla. They are pitchers Neal Roberts, Roy Wright, Bob Quinn, Joe Shipley and Dick Maibauer and catchers Frank Rivera and Charley Pearson.

TIGERS SHOCK BUMS

Barber Beaten By 18-1

LAKELAND, Fla. (AP) —The Detroit Tigers pounded Sal Maglie and two other Brooklyn pitchers for 20 hits—their highest total of the spring—and swamped the National League champion Dodgers 18-1 Wednesday behind the three-hit pitching of Frank Lary and Jim Bunning.

Al Kaline smashed two home runs and Charley Maxwell, Frank House and Reno Bertoia had one each in the Detroit onslaught. Frank Bolling, Tiger second baseman, had five hits in five attempts, including a pair of doubles and a triple.

Seven of the Tiger hits and six of their runs came off Maglie, who started. Ken Lehman yielded four hits and five runs in two innings while Clem Labine was hammered for nine hits and seven runs in three frames.

Lary didn't allow a base runner until he walked Don Zimmer in the sixth. Pinch-hitter Charlie Neal collected the Dodgers' first hit—a single—also in the sixth. Brooklyn's only other hits were a single by Chico Fernandez and a home run by Carl Furillo, both off Bunning.

Fine Beginning

It may have been a portent of things to come when Lyle Hermance (above) bowled a 602 scratch series at the Northeast Lanes. Lyle is only 15 and a student at Lincoln Northeast High but he's already an avid bowler, carrying a 148 average in the Havelock Merchants Junior League. Lyle, who may have a future in local bowling circles after a fine start, can usually be found close to the alleys—he lives one house north of the Northeast Lanes. (Star Photo.)

CARDS TRIP YANKS, 1-0

ST. PETERSBURG (AP) — Righthander Johnny Kucks went the distance for the New York Yankees, Wednesday, held the St. Louis Cardinals to four hits, but lost the game, 1-0. A double by Del Ennis and triple by Hobie Landrith gained the lone score for St. Louis in the second inning.

Herm Wehmeier, probable opening-day hurler for the Redbirds, was touched for eight hits in seven innings and Larry Jackson permitted a ninth-inning single to Yogi Berra.

The Cards whipped up four double plays to take the sting out of the nine New York safeties, with the result that no Yankee passed second base.

The world champions now have a string of 20 scoreless innings against them, having lost 1-0 in 11 innings to the Brooklyn Dodgers in their last previous game.

Three Lakes Get Trout By Saturday

Glen Foster, chief of the State Game Commission's Fisheries Division, said Wednesday trout to be stocked in two lakes at Fremont and Sandpit Lake No. 2 at Louisville will be in the water and awaiting fishermen by the morning of March 30.

He said the exact time of stocking is indefinite, although it probably will take place the day or evening of March 29.

One load of trout is planned for each of Fremont lakes Nos. 1 and 5, and one load at the Louisville pit. More fish will be added, probably a week later, Foster said.

Each load contains from 1,200 to 1,500 trout, mostly yearlings running from 8 to 14 inches long. Included also, however, will be a few old spawners, running in weight from three to five pounds.

Nebraskans May Pay $1 To Enjoy State Parks

Nebraskans may start paying a $1 fee to get into certain state recreation spots.

Bill LB 472, affecting a permit plan for entry into the parks, was passed out of the Public Works Committee Wednesday. An amendment adopted also raised the fee from 50 cents to $1.

Under terms of the new bill, no motor vehicle will be permitted inside the grounds unless it has a permit sticker.

The State Game Commission will have the power to designate which recreation areas and parks will come under the permit program. All fees collected would be deposited in the Game Commission ground fund and will be used solely for improvement, maintenance, and operation of the state parks.

Ten per cent of the fund would go toward enforcement of the permit program. The Commission told the committee funds derived from the permits could be used for matching federal funds to improve the recreation grounds.

Previously, the bill would have allowed holders of hunting and fishing permits to enter the grounds free and would not have required them to purchase permits. This was stricken from the amended bill.

The permits would be good for a year's time and would apply to all state parks and recreation grounds.

Vaughn Cuts Giardello's String But Ref's Score Card Challenged

KANSAS CITY (AP) — Two members of the Missouri Athletic Commission said following the fight that a disputed 10-round decision awarded Willie Vaughn over Joey Giardello Wednesday night would officially be declared a "no decision" Thursday.

Vaughn, from Hollywood, Calif., stalked the favored Philadelphian around the ring for most of the nationally-televised bout and wound up with what was announced as a split decision.

Giardello's corner immediately protested, threatening to take the matter to court. A ringside rhubarb resulted. Involved was a newly-adopted and previously unannounced Missouri scoring system.

"Unfortunately," Commissioner Charles W. Pian of St. Louis said afterward, "the judges were using the correct system, and the referee was using the old system."

He and Commissioner O. G. Arnold of Kansas City said they would confer today with Commission Chairman Floyd Jones of Springfield, Mo., who would make the formal "no decision" announcement.

Challenged by Giardello and his seconds was Referee Ray Sissom's scorecard, which originally had 52 points for Vaughn and 48 for Giardello.

As the result of the challenge the referee's scorecard was officially changed to read 47-45 in Vaughn's favor to correspond with the National Boxing Assn's "5-point-must" scoring system.

Frank Carter, Giardello's manager, said he would take the decision to court if "necessary to get the verdict changed," adding: "If Sissom didn't know the scoring system he shouldn't have been in the ring."

Under 5-point must scoring no one fighter in any round can be given more than a maximum of five points. The loser of a round can be given four points or less. An even round is scored at 5-all.

Sissom had kept score under the old Missouri system of awarding 10 points per round instead of the new rule.

Sissom's scoring affected five rounds — the second, fifth, sixth, seventh and ninth—in which he gave the winner of each round six points. It was these rounds Carter protested.

Vaughn, speedier afoot and the aggressor most of the way, opened a cut over Giardello's right eye in the fifth round and the Brooklyn boy bled profusely and appeared badly confused the remainder of the fight.

HUSKERS HOLD INDOOR DRILL

The Nebraska Cornhuskers resumed spring football practice Wednesday, but they had to work inside the field house for the first time.

However, there's a good chance the Huskers will get outside again Thursday. Snow plows scraped the south practice field Wednesday and two days of sunshine should dry it up in pretty good shape.

Coach Bill Jennings spent most of Wednesday's session on group work and part-line scrimmage.

Only major casualty to come out of last Saturday's rain-soaked scrimmage was North Platte's soph quarterback Harry Tolly and he's still out of action.

Tolly sprained an ankle, and although it's not a serious injury, he is being held out of practice to give it plenty of time to heal. There's a chance he'll be able to play in Saturday's game scrimmage.

All others are fit and ready for full duty, according to Trainer Paul Schneider.

Johnson Threatens To Move Athletics

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP) — Arnold Johnson, owner of the Kansas City Athletics said Wednesday night the American League baseball club would either have to move to some other city or stop efforts to improve the team if a proposed Kansas City ordinance taxing admission to sports events is put in effect.

Councilman Charles C. Shafter has proposed a license fee of five per cent on gross receipts of all professional athletic events in Kansas City, Mo.

Gipson, Globetrotters Gallop Gleefully, 55-49

By RON GIBSON
Star Sports Staff Writer

Led by clowning center J. C. Gipson the Harlem Globetrotters won a 55-49 basketball frolic from their straight men, the Hawaiian Surfriders, before a small crowd at Nebraska Wesleyan Wednesday night.

The few onlookers saw J.C., 6-8 husky who is without college basketball experience, go through the standard Trotter funnyman routines with great glee. He also scored 19 points, 18 of them on field goals.

It was a Gipson hook shot that put Harlem ahead for good, 14-12; in the first quarter. It was 31-24 at the half and with J. C. on the sidelines the slick Negro team made it 42-28 in the third period.

J.C. came back in, the fun began anew, and the Globetrotters saw the lead cut to the final six-point difference.

There was no problem, scorewise or comedywise, as long as J.C. was in action.

He palmed the ball, argued with the officials, laughed, faked, hid the ball under his own and other players' jerseys, and topped off the performance with two trick basketballs—one a yo-yo affair on a long rubber string, the other deflated.

Andy Shepard, dribbling expert, gave a good floor performance and finished with 10 points. For the Surfriders, ex-Californian Jack Davidson scored 16, Don Ho had 11 and Damian Rocha 10.

Fans were treated to a series of top-notch variety acts before the game and between halves. The score by quarters:

Globetrotters	14	17	12	12—55
Surfriders	12	12	8	17—49

Irate Williams 'To Play More'

By JERRY LISKA

PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP) — Ted Williams had sharp words today for any who suspect he intends to play on a part-time basis for the Boston Red Sox this season.

Using typically strong language, the 36-year-old batting wonder snapped at a group of sports writers:

"I'm going to play a lot more games this season than you (blanket-blank) writers think.

"You so-and-so's forget that when I did start playing last season, I didn't miss a playing day."

His retort was prompted by a question asking how many games he thought he might play with a good start.

Last year Williams was sidelined by a foot injury from April 18 through May 28, a span of 33 games. He wound up just four hits short of winning his fifth American League title with .345.

Baseball's highest salaried player, at an estimated $100,000, Williams reported before the Red Sox-Giant exhibition game today he was rounding into shape satisfactorily.

"I've got my aches and pains, but I always had them in spring training, even when I was just breaking in," said Williams, who is starting his 16th Red Sox season, a career interrupted twice by military service.

"I think the worst spring training injury I ever had was as a kid of 19 when I hurt my ankle.

"The hardest part of spring training for me is to get my timing down right. You keep trying to give them a show in all these different towns on the exhibition schedule with that big swing.

"The first thing you know, your head is swinging around to look where you think the ball will go and you lose the pitch.

"Then you have to work hard to get your head back where it belongs, down and right on the beam."

In the pre-game batting drill, while Williams was hammering four of the first five pitches to him far over the right-field fence, somebody on the Giant bench observed that Ted looked considerably overweight.

But Williams said he was only a few pounds over his normal playing weight of 210. "I'll work that off soon," Ted added.

Williams played infrequently in Florida, but has been starting all games on the Red Sox' current Far West tour. Entering today's game against the Giants, he had six hits in 16 trips, including a homer.

Dreisbach's Tourney At Two Sites

GRAND ISLAND — The Dreisbach's Men's Handicap Bowling Tournament will be held in two establishments this year April 6-7 and 13-14 with entries from three states already in.

Teams will bowl at the Fourth Street Bowl, 811 West 4th, and the doubles and singles squads will take over the upstairs alleys at the Rockwell.

Teams from 25 Nebraska towns have entered along with four teams from Norton, Kan. and Colby, Kan., and one team from Yankton, S.D. The rate of entries this year indicates the final total will top last year's high.

Meth's Dinner House of Grand Island, the 1956 team champ, will be on hand to defend its title. Doubles champs Phil Addleman and W. Smith of Lincoln are scheduled to defend their doubles crown, and Smith will defend the all-events title.

Gene Reab of Grand Island, 1956 singles champ, is expected to enter.

The entry fee is $3.75 for each event entered except the scratch all-events, which is $1. Entries close April 5, and several choice shifts are still open in each event.

Prize money will be awarded to the top ten teams, and there will be one price for each 10 entries in the doubles, singles and all-events. Last year prize money totaled $2,600; $100 has been added to the team prize this year.

Lincoln Sharpshooters Win Indoor Match

OMAHA — The Western Gun & Supply Pistol team of Lincoln won the Indoor Sectional Team Championships here.

The team shot a 1136, only 5 points under the Indoor National Record which they fired in 1952.

Robert Deitemeyer of Lincoln won the Individual Match competition firing the highest score ever fired in the indoor state matches. His 869 score was sparked by a 190 slow fire and a 287 national match course. Al Mart of Lincoln took top honors in the Timed Fire events and Floyd Flader won the rapid fire match in the Master class.

Wayne Welty was high in the slow fire and timed fire of the expert class and Greg Kibbie took 2nd place across the board in the marksman class.

Redlegs Plan Baseball Camp In Sidney

SIDNEY (AP)—The Cincinnati National League baseball club will hold a tryout camp in Sidney June 12, 13, 14 for candidate from 17 to 22 years of age. Phil Seghi, chief Cincinnati scout, will be in charge. He said he expects between 200 and 300 players from Nebraska, Colorado, Wyoming, Kansas and South Dakota to attend.

Denver Ousted In AAU Meet

DENVER (AP)—A remarkable free throw shooting team from Lake Charles, La., spilled highly-rated Denver, 73-72, Wednesday in the biggest upset of the 50th National AAU basketball tournament.

The upset featured the second round of the tourney in which Seattle's Bakers opened defense of their championship with a 79-66 victory over Milford, Conn.

The Seattle victory sends the 1956 champions into today's quarter-finals against Wichita, which rolled to a 102-69 triumph over the U.S. Navy All Stars.

Peoria, Ill., another of the National Industrial League powers, moved into the quarter-finals with an 87-73 victory over Seattle Autos, who stayed close until the last eight minutes.

Bartlesville, Okla., opened its bid for a ninth national AAU title with an easy 92-69 victory over Ogden, Utah.

The talent-laden Air Force All-Stars became the third team to hit three figures in tourney scoring with a 100-76 triumph over scrappy Joliet, Ill.

A pair of 6-foot, 5-inch Californians, Barry Brown of Stanford and Tom Meschery of San Francisco's Lowel High School, led the Olympic club to an easy 86-66 win over Brownstown, Ind.

LETTERS RAISE HOPES OF ANNOUNCER HUSING

PASADENA, Calif. (AP)—The dark and lonely world of former sports announcer Ted Husing has been brightened as a recent newspaper accounts of his illness.

The story, published by the Los Angeles Mirror-News and carried by The Associated Press, told of an operation for removal of a brain tumor that has left him partially paralyzed, nearly blind, and with his memory impaired.

In the two weeks since the story appeared, a flood of letters, telegrams and telephone calls has poured into the house in Pasadena where he lives with his mother and daughter.

Mirror-News sports writer Coy Williams, dropping in on Husing, found him sitting happily by a table piled high with letters."

"Look at them," he said. "I can't read them, of course, but my mother and my daughter read me every word. It's good to know folks haven't forgotten me."

The letters come from all parts of the country and even from other nations. They're from former athletes, sports writers, and sports fans.

A group of fans in Providence, R. I., sent him a plaque. The Notre Dame Club of Cleveland, Ohio, gave him a scroll, reading, in part:

"A tribute to All-American Ted Husing ... in recognition of the beauty of your diction ... the warmth of your personality ... the plays we saw through your eyes ... the moments of suspense we lived with you ..."

Husing said his doctors tell him he has made great improvement in the past two weeks. He said they call it a minor miracle.

Massachusetts Prexy Wants RE-Emphasis Of Football

BOSTON (AP)—The University of Massachusetts announced Wednesday night plans to emphasize football and other athletics and an all-out effort to recruit top schoolboy athletes within the state.

"I have had all the apathy I can stomach," University President J. Paul Mather told a news conference, citing Massachusetts' poor records in inter-collegiate competition.

"This is to serve notice that the university administration does not intend to go along on a pussyfoot basis," Mater said. "We intend to carry out a program of re-emphasis, not de-emphasis."

The 41-year-old university president said he believes that too many colleges and universities throughout the country have "over emphasized de-emphasis of athletics."

"Athletics have been given a black eye in relation to their part in education," the educator said.

"One of the reasons is that a lot of university presidents have acted as hypocrites and gone along with public clamor without never clarifying their own stand."

Mather said he believes there are many good "Massachusetts athletes who would come to the University of Massachusetts if we had a proper program."

"I'm tired of seeing boys like (Walt) Kowalczyk who can see the University (of Massachusetts) from his home go to college outside the state," he said.

Mather said that grants-in-and—"don't call them scholarships because I'm against hyporisy"—will be made to athletes consistent with policies of the NCAA and the Eastern Collegiate Athletic Conference.

"If you want to play tiddlywinks on Saturday with a girls college, that is all right," he declared. "But it is not good policy to teach boys to walk away from defeat with a smile on their faces. It's not good whether it be in football, engineering or business."

Pius Golfers Bid For Third Crown

Coach Bill Inbody's Pius X golf team is bidding for its third straight Class B state links championship.

Three members of last year's team which copped the title are back. They are Phil Brietfelder, Charley Burda and Tom Melby. All are seniors.

Jim Yax and Bob Lane should add depth to the Thunderbolts' squad. Others bidding for team spots include Jerry Karey, John Herrod and Jerry Overgaard.

The schedule (home matches played at Pioneers):

April 5—North Platte Invitational; 9—at Lincoln High; 16 (tentative)—Seward; 27—State Sand Greens Tournament at Holdrege.
May 3—Northeast, North Platte at Northeast; 10—State Class B grass Greens Tournament.

Dave Beck Deals Included 'Diapers'

WASHINGTON (AP) — Nearly everyone has at one time or another played that grand old American game of "I can get it for you wholesale." And Wednesday a Senate investigating committee said a labor leader played it on a truly wholesale scale.

The purchases it listed included everything from a renaissance rug ($991.19) to five dozen diapers ($9.68) to Dave Beck's six pair of knee drawers ($27.54).

And along the way were such interesting tidbits as a $14 custom made tie, $1,918.15 for "gardening," and $2.31 for a "thing-a-ma-jig for the camera."

The witness before the committee, which is hunting for racketeering in labor unions, was Nathan Shefferman. He's a Chicago labor relations man who can get things wholesale because a number of maufacturing firms are among his clients.

One of those who was quick to take advantage of Shefferman's offer was Dave Beck, head of the Teamsters Union.

Great Interest

The committee has had a great interest in Beck and the teamsters. Only Tuesday he was on the stand, but refused to discuss his financial transactions or to show the committee his books.

Wednesday he sat back, and to one side, of Shefferman while Shefferman went over a long list of merchandise purchased by Beck and the teamsters through his firm. Beck seemed to enjoy the game as much as the committee members.

Shefferman explained he doesn't hang around the office much, so he was at a loss to explain what the goods were to be used for.

He made such comments as these as he moved down the long list:

Golf clubs, $129. Golf balls, $54. "I don't think he (Beck) plays golf so he must have given them away. He's a very generous man."

Watch for golf clubs, $26.77. "What is a watch for a golf club?" Shefferman asked.

Little High

Hose, $124. Shefferman figured that was a little high for silk hose. "It must have been a garden hose," he said.

6 pr. knee drawers, $27.54. "That's the payoff."

1 bow tie, $3.50. "I didn't know he wore a bow tie."

Since Beck has not wanted to discuss his fiscal affairs, it was difficult to determine just who ordered what and why. Shefferman didn't know, or care, since he was repaid — with $85,000 from union funds, the committee contends.

But the committee produced a note to show that at least one item was for Beck's own use. A note written by Beck to Shefferman said:

"Nate, please pay this. D. B."

"Full of Holes'

And there was this querulous footnote: "Tell them their socks are terrible. Full of holes."

One thing that interested the senators was how Shefferman makes his living. He explained that he works for employers and tries to build up goodwill among the employes.

"We find frustration, hate and suspicion," he said, and try to wipe it out.

Well, these hearings have produced plenty of frustration, on both sides of the table. Maybe it's stirred up a little hate, and certainly it has stirred up plenty of suspicion.

The consensus was that Nathan Shefferman had come to the right place.

Voted Ouster

WASHINGTON (AP) — Teamsters boss Dave Beck testified Wednesday he once voted to oust University of Washington professors who invoked the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer questions about communism.

Beck acknowledged this to the Senate Rackets Investigating Committee in response to a question. It was one of the few questions to which Beck did not reply by invoking the Fifth and pleading his Constitutional rights to remain silent.

Committee counsel Robert F. Kennedy said Beck in July 1948 was quoted on the case of the professors as saying:

"Americans who live the American way of life do not have to hide behind technicalities."

Egypt Bans British Sterling, French Francs As Suez Canal Toll Currency

CAIRO, Egypt (AP) — An Egyptian circular to shipping companies Wednesday banned British sterling and French francs as currencies in which Suez Canal tolls may be paid.

The circular, understood to have been issued by Egypt's Suez Canal authority, listed seven currencies acceptable from ships of west European countries. It said Danish, Norwegian, Swedish, Belgian, Dutch, Italian and German money would be accepted on the condition it is freely convertible in any currency with the Europeans Payment Union at the official rate of exchange announced by the International Monetary Fund.

The Indian rupee was declared acceptable for Indian ships.

All other ships, the circular said, should pay tolls in U.S. or Canadian dollars, Swiss francs or in such other currencies as may be acceptable by the Egyptian exchange control in accordance with instructions to be issued by canal authorities.

A further general regulation said ships chartered for more than one trip through the canal would be expected to pay according to the nationality of the charterer, while a ship engaged for only one trip would pay according to the nationality of the owner.

First Announcement

This was the first announcement concerning the canal since U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold left Cairo after long conferences here in an effort to soften Egyptian President Nasser's attitude on Middle East issues.

Hammarskjold was said by various sources to have left with a Nasser plan for operation of the canal which was described as not pleasing to everyone but acceptable to the United States.

Nasser was reported to be insisting that Egypt collect all the tolls, but willing to set aside 25 per cent for a U.N. Technical Assistance Board to develop and maintain the waterway and 5 per cent to compensate owners of the old Suez Canal Co., that was nationalized last July. Nasser was reported unwilling to give any guarantees of freedom of passage through the canal other than a reaffirmation of the 1888 Istanbul Convention.

Hammarskjold was en route to New York where he planned to report Thursday to the seven-nation Advisory Committee on matters concerning the canal and the status of U.N. forces in the Gaza Strip and on the shore of the Gulf of Aqaba.

Time Being

Diplomatic sources said Hammarskjold left Egypt with a "gentleman's agreement" that Nasser would permit U.N. forces to remain on the Gaza armistice line for the time being.

Informants also said Nasser had given an oral pledge not to take any action which might disturb the Middle East. It was believed the pledge includes agreement not to send Egyptian troops into the Gaza Strip nor to take immediate action on Israeli shipping in the Aqaba Gulf.

'Reneged'

PARIS (AP) — Foreign Minister Christian Pineau said the United States had reneged on agreements it made with France on withdrawal of Israeli forces from the Gaza Strip and Aqaba Gulf.

The agreements, Pineau told the National Assembly, were made between him and Secretary of State Dulles in Washington last month.

They were, he reported, that Israel might rightfully fight back if its ships were attacked in the gulf and that Egyptian administrators should not be allowed back in the Gaza Strip after the Israeli withdrawal.

Both, Pineau said, were modified in the U.S. statement of its position made afterward in the U.N. General Assembly.

'Some Good'

WASHINGTON (INS) — U.S. officials said that the Egyptian plan to run the Suez Canal single-handedly contains "some good as well as some bad points" and indicated they are hopeful a compromise can be achieved.

Administration sources based their optimism on the Egyptian request for the U.S. and other interested nations to make "comments" on the four-point canal proposal.

'Success'

CAIRO (INS) — The Egyptian press declared in crimson headlines that the Hammarskjold-Nasser talks were a success and that "Suez tolls go to us."

Senators Seek Delehant Successor Recommendation

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sens. Curtis and Hruska, Nebraska Republicans, said Wednesday they will recommend as soon as possible a successor to U.S. District Judge James W. Delehant of Nebraska. Delehant has requested retrement.

They said in a statement the Justice Department has advised them of a letter in which Delehant asked retirement and stated his willingness to hear cases after retirement.

"While it is hoped that the matter of recommending a successor can be resolved without undue delay, time will be taken to consider the qualifications of every lawyer and judge eligible for the appointment," the senators said.

An aide to one of the senators said the Justice Department did not say whether Delehant had indicated on what date he wishes to retire.

Redistricting Issue OKd For Western

WESTERN, Neb.—Voters in the Western school district and six rural districts approved a proposed merger in a special election here. The vote was 240 for and 12 against in the Western district, and 80 for to 71 against in the rural area.

Approval of the plan needed at least 51 per cent of the votes in the rural bloc. Two absentee ballots remain to be counted, but they will not affect the outcome.

Supt. Robert Moore of the Western schools said valuation of the school district for tax purposes will increase from near $600,000 to about $2,000,000 as a result of the election.

The school merger will enable the district to cut down the 50 mill levy to around 26, Supt. Moore explained.

The redistricting will become effective July 1.

Only a one-fifth increase, about 20 pupils, is expected in the elementary schools as a result of the merger, according to Supt. Moore. The high school enrollment will not be affected, he said, since the school is now serving the entire area on a free high school tuition basis.

Federal Aid To School Opposed

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Miller (R-Neb) said initial returns on his annual questionnaire show his constituents lined up about 10 to one against federal aid to education.

He said the bulk of the questionnaires now has gone out and about 2,000 sent early were beginning to trickle back. Rep. Miller emphasized that when all the returns are in the trends could be changed.

He listed these partial returns:

About nine to one favored having the postoffice pay its own way.

The returns were about even on whether the President should confer with other nations.

It was "thumbs down on foreign aid to communist countries and about even on the question: "Do you favor foreign aid of any kind?' " He said all those in the affirmative asked for drastic cuts.

"By a margin of 12 to one our people said the current trend in government points toward socialism," Miller declared. "All but one person favored a balanced budget before tax reduction and the vote on statehood for Alaska or Hawaii is slightly in favor."

Dr. Cromwell said no anti-cancer drug (alkylating agent) has yet proved to be a cure for cancer, but several have shown a temporary effect on some forms of the disease in man.

'56 New Irrigation Wells Total 4,094; York Leads

. . . Nebraska Mark Stands At 19,089

York County led Nebraska in the number of new irrigation wells drilled in 1956 with 344, or an 87 per cent increase, bringing the county's total to 742.

This was reported by Eugene C. Reed, director of the University of Nebraska's Conservation and Survey Division, in an irrigation well inventory.

For Nebraska as a whole there were 4,094 new wells last year, which boosts the state's total number to 19,098, representing a 27 per cent increase, Reed said.

Other leading counties in the number of new wells in 1956 included: Dawson, 325; Hamilton, 293; and Clay, 219.

Harrison Doubts Passage Of Corn Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Harrison (R-Neb) said he doubts Congress will pass emergency corn legislation for the 1957 crop.

The House recently voted down various new corn proposals. The State Agriculture Committee approved, 9-4, a compromise version in a last-ditch effort to get action for this year.

Harrison said he personally would vote for the Senate version if it comes to the House, but he does not believe there is much of a chance that the House as a whole would go along.

The new proposal would raise the national corn acreage allotment from 37 million acres scheduled for this year to 51 million. The price support figure would be left at $1.36 a bushel, or about 75 per cent of parity.

Ike Angered By 'Copter Question

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Eisenhower reacted angrily Wednesday when a reporter suggested a pair of helicopters being purchased for the chief executive will be used to transport him to the golf course.

McGaffin

The flare of temper came during Eisenhower's news conference. Newsmen on hand could not recall ever seeing the President more irritated.

It started when William McGaffin of the Chicago Daily News spoke of efforts to achieve spending economies in the executive branch of the government.

McGaffin then asked Eisenhower whether, in the light of such efforts, he would "be willing to do without that pair of helicopters that have been proposed for getting you to the golf course a little faster than you can make it in a car."

Eisenhower's face flushed and he snapped back:

"Well, I don't think much of the question because no helicopters have been procured for me to go to the golf course."

The President then cut loose with a bristling "That's all." He repeated that remark and turned to another questioner when McGaffin seemed ready to try to continue the exchange.

(McGaffin is a former Lincoln Star reporter.)

Eisenhower may have seen a cartoon by Herblock (Herbert Block) published Wednesday morning on the editorial page of the Washington Post and Times Herald.

Captioned "The Helicopter Era," it portrayed Eisenhower in a helicopter over the heads of a crowd of men fighting one another with clubs, knives and axes. The men carried such signs as "Aid to Education," "Civil Rights," "Immigration", "Budget," and "Foreign Aid" and "Trade."

The White House announced recently that the Air Force is buying two helicopters for Eisenhower's use between the White House and National Airport here. The plan is for Eisenhower to travel in one and escorting secret service agents in the other.

Press Secretary James C. Hagerty said at the time that use of the helicopters, which he said would cost about $60,000 each, would avert ground traffic tieups which occur when Eisenhower goes to the airport by automobile.

The press secretary also said at that time, however, he could not rule out the possibility that Eisenhower might use the helicopters for travel to a golf course at some time in the future.

New Oil Record

SIDNEY, Neb. (AP) — Another Nebraska oil production record was set last week when the total hit 54,430 barrels every 24 hours. That was an increase of over 2,000 barrels per day over the old top set the week before.

City-County Health Gives Baby Count

A report issued by the City-County Health Department Wednesday showed that there were 358 live births in November, 1956, and 368 in December, 1956, in Lancaster County.

This included 193 males and 165 females in November and 186 males and 182 females during December. In November 113 deaths —53 males and 60 females — were reported and during December 114 deaths — 72 males and 42 females — were recorded.

As usual, heart diseases claimed the most lives — 22 men and 17 women in November and the identical numbers during December. Cancer was second. It claimed the lives of four men and eight women during November and nine men and four women during December.

Auto accidents caused the deaths of two men in November and six men in December.

China, Czechoslovakia Sign 'Friendship' Pact

TOKYO (INS) — The Communist governments of China and Czechoslovakia signed a "friendship" treaty in Peiping Wednesday, according to a Peiping radio broadcast monitored in Tokyo.

Although Communist China is not a member of the United Nations, the Peiping treaty contained a provision pledging both signatories to "full respect and support of the principles" of the U.N. charter.

Bill To Provide Wholesale Gas Service Held

A proposed law suggested by a current dispute between the city of Bayard, Neb., and the North-Central Gas Co., was aired Wednesday before the Legislature's Public Works Committee.

The committee held the measure, LB 150, pending a check with the attorney general.

Under the bill, introduced by Sen. Mervin V. Bedford of Geneva, a public utility whose distribution system is taken over by a city or village would be required to provide wholesale service to the city or village, whether otherwise acting as a wholesaler or not.

Bayard has moved to take over, by condemnation, the gas distribution system in that town. North-Central, which has owned and operated the retail distribution in Bayard, has objected to having to supply gas to the city as a wholesaler if the city takes over the retail distribution system.

Bayard asked the State Railway Commission to force North-Central to supply gas to the city at wholesale. North-Central challenged the commission's jurisdiction but the commission held that North-Central was a "common carrier" under the law and was subject to the commission's regulation. That issue now is on appeal to the State Supreme Court.

Witnesses appearing in favor of LB 150 at Wednesday's public hearing included Sen. Bedford; Mayor W. L. George of Bayard; Robert Perry of Lincoln, representing the city of Bayard and the utilities section of the League of Nebraska Municipalities; John Kruse, secretary-treasurer of the utilities section, and Richard Wilson, representing Consumers Public Power District.

Appearing for North-Central, in opposition to the bill, was Robert Simmons Jr., Scottsbluff attorney.

Simmons contended North-Central is not now in the wholesale business and doesn't want to get into it.

Doesn't Want Federal Control

For one thing, he said, the company would come under federal power commission jurisdiction as a wholesaler, and North-Central doesn't want to have to run to Washington with its problems.

Simmons also contended that the legislation would deprive North-Central of some of its present rights to shut off service to certain users under a priority arrangement in times of emergency or shortages.

Perry termed the Simmons arguments "bogey men." He said North-Central already is in fact a wholesaler and said some 40 Nebraska cities own their own gas distribution systems and have no trouble arranging with wholesalers on which users to cut off when emergencies arise.

Simmons questioned the constitutionality of the proposed law or any order requiring North-Central to furnish gas at wholesale to Bayard. These, he argued, would represent the taking of property without due process of law.

——'Warehouse Bill'——

Terry Plans To Help Make Law Work

Sen. Terry Carpenter said Wednesday he personally will lead a campaign for cracking down on large firms which ignore the recently-enacted "warehouse bill" designed to put more property on the tax rolls.

During discussion of LB 134, a combination sales-income tax measure, Carpenter said his so-called "warehouse bill," LB 129, promises to be one of the most significant of the current session in getting property taxed fully.

LB 129 requires warehouse operators to provide county assessors with lists of all items held in storage by them and names of the real owners of the items.

Carpenter said he had been advised that some large firms plan to ignore the law. He said he had been advised also that as a private citizen he can file complaints against any such offending firms.

Carpenter said he planned to pick "12 of the largest concerns" which fail to comply with LB 129 and file complaints against them.

In Scotts Bluff County alone, Carpenter said, property taxes could be reduced 15 to 20 per cent if evasion were halted.

Real Old Stuff

COPENHAGEN (AP)—When Queen Elizabeth II visits Denmark next month King Frederik IX will serve her a Rhine wine 370 years old. But no Dane envies her. The wine was stored in oak casks at Rosenborg castle by King Christian IV on his ascent to the throne in 1588. Tradition says it must be served to royal visitors even if it does taste like vinegar now.

Neighborly

HOWELL, Mich. (AP) — Two girls born here each weighed six pounds and four ounces. They arrived three minutes apart. Both were delivered by Dr. Fred Hauer.

Their mothers, Mrs. Donald Kirby and Mrs. William Murphy of nearby Webberville, are next door neighbors. They were playing bridge together and broke up the game when both decided that it was time to go to the hospital.

Bowled Over

MUSKEGON, Mich. (AP)—Police were bowled over by this one:

Howard Veeneman reported a thief, waiting in the pin pit, ran off with his bowling ball after he rolled it down the alley in a match.

Double Benefits Denied

WEST HARTLEPOOL, Eng. (AP) —Two Moslem shipyard workers stumped union leaders doling out strike pay allowances. They wanted double benefits. Each has two wives back in Aden. Union officials huddled, then issued this decision: "Union rules are based on English law. English law permits only one wife. So only one wife can get a strike pay allowance."

25th Crossing

HAMBURG, Germany (AP) — Max Conrad, 54-year-old American pilot, delivered the aircraft that brought him on his 25th Atlantic crossing in a light plane.

Conrad, a band leader turned pilot, had flown the $35,000 Piper Apache from the United States for the Gruner-Druck Co. of Hamburg, a large printing firm.

Convicted War Contract Conspirator Dies Broke

NEW YORK (AP) — Murray Garsson, 68, onetime millionaire munitions manufacturer sent to prison for war contract frauds, died in Bellevue Hospital—broke and homeless.

His death was disclosed Wednesday by his physician, Dr. Emanuel M. Josephson. Garsson had been sleeping in Dr. Josephson's offices after leaving a hotel.

"I let him use my reception room for three weeks because he was broke," said Dr. Josephson.

An autopsy showed Garsson died of a brain hemorrhage apparently brought on by an injury suffered in a fall downstairs. He had been brought to the hospital unconscious on March 8 and remained in a coma until his death.

Dr. Josephson said Garsson was found lying at the foot of steps outside the building where the doctor has his offices and residence about 2 a.m. March 7.

Dr. Josephson said Garsson was conscious when found and said he "had fallen down" the stairs.

Garsson had been convicted with Rep. Andrew May, Kentucky Democrat, on charges of bribery and conspiracy in connection with obtaining war contracts.

He was sentenced in 1949 to eight months to two years in prison, and was released in 1951.

Garsson's brother, Henry, also went to prison in the case.

The brothers were convicted of giving Rep. May $53,634 in bribes to use his influence as chairman of the House Military Affairs Committee to help them get war contracts. Henry Garsson also was released from prison in 1951.

In 1954, the brothers filed a claim against the government for more than $18,500,000. They asserted this was "the reasonable value" of the government's use of methods and processes which they said they developed for war materials.

The brothers also asserted the government, through the use of Garsson developments, saved more than 500 million dollars between 1942 and 1952.

Gavins Recreation Group Is Named

NORFOLK, Neb. (AP) — A group formed to promote recreation at the Gavins Point Dam in South Dakota will be known in the future as the "Gavins Point Development Assn. of Nebraska."

Some 40 persons adopted the official name of the organization and set up their by-laws. Keith Thelander, Orchard, president, presided at the meeting.

The by-laws said the purpose of the association was to:

"Encourage maximum development of recreation, fishing and hunting facilities in the immediate area of the lake and to promote construction of a landing strip and all necessary roads leading" to the area.

Confusion Prevails At Sales-Income Tax Debate

By ROY CAMPBELL
Star Staff Writer

A legislative three-ring circus spiced with a birthday party Wednesday upset plans to bring the Unicameral to grips with a sales-income tax bill.

Before the more than two hours of debate had run its course, a total of six motions were offered. Three were acted on.

Principal introducer of the sales-income measure, Sen. Norman Otto of Kearney, charged "delaying" tactics had been used. No vote was taken on the combination bill itself (LB 134) and the body adjourned to continue the issue until Thursday.

Confusion prevailed even on the motion to adjourn, with several red buttons showing up on the scoreboard when a vote was called for.

'Trial' Voted Down

The legislators voted down the first motion, a move to amend the bill to put it on a "trial" basis and then submit it to a vote in 1960.

Offered by Sen. Marvin Lautenschlager of Grand Island, this move was voted down 31-9.

Another motion, which backers of the bill hadn't expected, was a move to strike the sales tax portion and vote only on an income tax.

'Equalize'

This was made by Sen. Peter Claussen of Leigh, who said this kind of tax would expand the tax base, take the state out of the property tax field and "equalize the tax load."

This motion, too, was voted down, 27-13.

Sen. Otto voted against the straight income tax measure, although he said on the floor he had "no particular objection to an income tax."

The legislators adjourned in a state of confusion on the final motion of the day, by Sen. Marvin Bedford of Geneva.

He called for holding the legislative bills in brackets—those calling for state spending in the amount of more than $5,000—before action was taken on LB 134.

To Kill All

A move by Sen. Terry Carpenter of Scottsbluff at this point was to indefinitely postpone, or kill, all the bills in brackets.

Carpenter said he wanted to know "who are the tax spenders in this body." He added, "I assure you I am not one of them."

Lt. Gov. Dwight Burney ruled Carpenter's motion out of order, although the Scottsbluff senator said he will attempt to renew it, possibly in different form.

Debate on the issue was broken up temporarily with the announcement by Sen. Kathleen Foote of Axtell of a birthday cake cutting for her two-year-old son, John. The boy was born during the 1955 legislative session when Mrs. Foote was serving her first term in the Unicameral.

A semi-crowded senate chamber which included a "back the tax" delegation from the North Platte Valley, was treated to oratory from both aisles. When the motion to adjourn was made, eight senators were calling for the floor to speak.

A form of filibustering by Sen. Willard Waldo of DeWitt was broken up by Sen. Sam Klaver of Omaha. The hour was nearing noon when Waldo, a strong backer of the sales tax and the combination bill, was called out.

'No Guarantee'

The motion to kill the combination bill was offered by Sens. Charles Tvrdik of Omaha and David D. Tews of Norfolk. Sen. Tews said there was no "guarantee it would be a replacement tax." He estimated income from the income tax, to replace the state property tax, would be around $29 million a year.

The sales tax, he said, would bring in around $31 million a year.

(LB 134, as introduced by Sen. Otto, Sen. LeRoy Bahensky of Palmer and Sen. August Wagner of Columbus, calls for a two per cent sales tax and a state income tax equivalent to about 10 per cent of a person's or corporation's federal income tax.)

Sen. Otto, in moving against the kill motion, said Nebraska was at the crossroads and by the time the next session comes around, we'll be past the crossroads and will be on a detour."

'Need Relief'

Citing the increasing costs of state and county government and schools, he said taxes will continue to rise and "we need something to relieve that load."

Otto got backing from Sen. Hans O. Jensen of Aurora, who said industry was being kept out of Nebraska by the present tax structure.

A call for the end of debate at this point, by Sen. Otto Kotouc of Humboldt, was voted down 25-18.

A backer of the combination bill, Sen. Monroe Bixler of Harrison, cited increased costs. He also said Douglas County income is twice that of farm income, but the county pays only a third or fourth of the property tax.

Deductible

Sen. Otto stated the income tax paid to the state would be deductible as expense in paying federal income taxes. This figure, he said, would be around $6 to $7 million a year.

Sen. Tews replied there is "no room for the state of Nebraska to enter the field of income tax."

More debate on the bill and actions on motions now pending are expected Thursday.

HOW THEY VOTED ON MOTIONS

Votes on motions relating to discussion of LB 134, a sales-income tax bill, were recorded this way:

On Sen. Claussen's motion to strike the sales tax portion of the combination bill: for 13, against 27, not voting 3.

Voting for: Bahensky, Bedford, Bixler, Burbach, Carpenter, Claussen, Dame, Foote, Jensen, McGinley, Pizer, Ruhnke, Williams.

Not voting: Donner, Moulton, Waggoner.

On Sen. Lautenschlager's motion to put a three-year time limit on the combination tax: for 9, against 31, not voting 3.

Voting for: Bahensky, Bixler, Dame, Foote, Kotouc, Lautenschlager, Ruhnke, Waldo, Williams.

Voting against: Aufenkamp, Beaver, Bedford, Bridenbaugh, Carpenter, Claussen, Cole, Donner, Dooley, Fenske, Jensen, Klaver, Liebers, McGinley, McHenry, Moulton, Munnelly, Nelson, Otto, Pizer, Portsche, Simmons, Stryker, Swanson, Syas, Tews, Thompson, Tvrdik, Vogel, Waggoner, Wood.

Bill To Modify Bus Fees Dies

The Legislature's Government Committee Wednesday killed LB 423, which would have granted license fee relief to intercity buses. buses.

Introduced by Senators Charles Tvrdik and William Moulton, both of Omaha, and John Aufenkamp of Julian, the measure was backed by Greyhound and American Buslines.

It would have permitted bus lines to be licensed on the basis of their average use of the highways.

A Union Pacific Railroad representative and former Gov. Robert Crosby, representing the Better Nebraska Assn., spoke against the bill at the hearing.

The committee also heard but held for possible amendment LB 432, which would permit metropolitan cities (Omaha is the only one in the state) to take over their intracity transportation systems.

Steels, Rails Pace Upswing

NEW YORK (AP) — Steels and rails were the pacemakers Wednesday for another market rally of modest proportions.

Some motors, aircrafts and manufacturers tagged along. Coppers did well.

Key stocks advanced from fractions to around $2. Some selected issues did better.

Turnover was the best in a week. Volume totaled 1,710,000 shares compared with 3,660,000 Tuesday.

The market was irregular in early trading. Within an hour, however, the steels and rails forged ahead, inspiring other divisions. A good number of losers remained.

The performance was a rough parallel of Tuesday's. Aside from the spurt before mid-session, trading was pretty sluggish.

Tobacco shares were firm as the Internal Revenue Service reported that the nation smoked 9 per cent more cigarettes in January than in the like month of 1956.

The Associated Press average of 60 stocks rose 60 cents to $174.20 with the industrials up 70 cents, the rails up 80 cents and the utilities up 20 cents.

The trend was higher on the American Stock Exchange. Volume totaled 860,000 shares compared with 650,000 Tuesday.

WHEAT, SOYA FUTURES RISE

CHICAGO (AP) — Wheat and soybean futures continued their recovery progress on the Board of Trade Wednesday and other grains followed along.

Wheat and soybeans were up more than two cents a bushel at times, with the May contracts showing particular strength. Buying and short covering influenced by export news was the main prop to the market.

Wheat closed 1 to 2¼ cents higher, corn ¼ to ⅝ up, oats ¼ higher to ¼ lower rye 1¼ to 2 cents higher, soybeans ½ to 2 cents higher, and lard 15 to 20 cents a hundred pounds higher.

The CCC asked offerings on 44,100 hundred-pound sacks of flour for shipment to Bolivia. Turkey bought about 350,000 bushels of wheat for shipment from Atlantic ports. Exporters bought about 300,000 bushels of hard wheat in store in Chicago, with the wheat reported to be moved to the Atlantic seaboard for export.

The five-day forecast indicated very little moisture for the winter wheat belt, and this also caused some buying in the wheat pit.

The American Soybeans Assn. said government officials are sticking to their previous estimates that a little more than two billion pounds of soybean and cottonseed oil will be exported during the current marketing year.

Traders believe a tight situation could develop in May soybeans before the contract expires.

Soybean stocks in Chicago are down to about 3¾ million bushels, compared with more than 6 million bushels a year ago. Also, when lake navigation opens, it is assumed there will be a good soybean movement out of Chicago for Canada, which is the usual procedure. This could cause an even tighter supply situation in Chicago.

New Bank Building Start Slated

This is the architect's conception of the Continental National Bank's new building, to be constructed at 12th and N starting in early April. The cost of the structure is expected to be approximately $840,000. Davis and Wilson are the architects for the structure.

Continental's New Building Job To Olson

Olson Construction Co. Wednesday was awarded the general contract for construction of the Continental National Bank's new building at 12th and N.

Bank officers did not estimate the cost of the new structure, but did say it would run about 16 per cent under the original estimate of $1,000,000. This would put the cost at approximately $840,000.

Contracts on Low Bids

Bank President C. Wheaton Battey said the Olson bid and the other contracts awarded were all the low bids submitted.

The Commonwealth Electric Co. was awarded the electrical contract, and the plumbing, heating, and air-conditioning contract went to Natkin and Co.

Construction of the new bank headquarters will begin in early April, Battey said. He added that the bank hopes to move into the new building by "late 1958."

The new structure will occupy about one third of a block. The 28,000 square foot site between N and M include 300 feet of frontage on 12th St. and 100 feet of frontage on N and M Sts. The bank paid $644,500 for the site.

The southern half of the building will consist of a three-story parking building which will accommodate about 300 cars.

Parking Facilities

Free parking will be provided for bank customers and a portion of the spaces will be available to the public for paid parking.

Other facilities include drive-in parking spaces and nearby walk-up teller windows for persons who do not wish to transact their business from their car at regular drive-in banking windows.

Battey cited the bank's growth in recent years and planning for the anticipated development of the bank and of Lincoln as major reasons for the move. The bank has been located at its present location at the northeast corner of 11th and O since 1929.

The future use of the 11th and O structure has not yet been determined.

Iran Bandits Kill 2 U.S. Aid Officials

Wife Of One Is Kidnaped And Carried Off To Desert

TEHRAN, Iran (AP) — Tribal thugs in the southeastern desert may have skipped into Pakistan with a pretty American woman captive after slaying her husband and a fellow U.S. aid official.

That was speculation from a high government source Wednesday night on a bizarre murder-kidnap case that has unfolded slowly since Sunday.

Iranian forces including camel-mounted cavalry were reported closing in on the bandits. Officials suggested some already may have been captured.

The search is being pressed day and night on personal orders of the Shah.

The bandit leader in the area long has been wary of Iranian forces, who know him well.

An Iranian government source said he might have taken the missing 35-year-old Mrs. Anita Carroll across the thinly guarded Pakistani frontier in an area peopled only by illiterate tribes.

This part of Iran adjoining Pakistan's Baluchistan province is so remote, government officials said, that most people there don't know even that the first World War is over.

Clark S. Gregory, director of the U.S. Point Four Program in Iran, plans to fly to the area Thursday with high police officials to confirm the identities of the victims and press the search for Mrs. Carroll.

Government officials identified the bandit leader of the remote southeastern desert area as a notorious 60-year-old named Dadshah who lives by occasional holdups and camel breeding.

Two Iranians with the Americans were killed in the bandit ambush on the Americans' two-jeep convoy Sunday.

The dead Americans were identified as Kevin M. Carroll, 37, of Issaquah, Wash., and Brewster A. Wilson, 35, Portland, Ore. All four men were found knifed to death.

The missing American woman was identified as Carroll's wife Anita, 35.

The commander-in-chief of the Iranian Gendarmerie — a national police force formerly headed by Col. J. Norman Swartzkopf, the New Jersey sleuth of Lindbergh kidnap fame — told reporters Wednesday night:

"If not already arrested, I very much hope the bandits will be taken within the next 48 hours."

The gendarmerie boss, Gen. Alinaghi Golpiri, said 700 gendarmes, 400 soldiers and about 100 camel-borne soldiers have been assigned to capture the bandits.

The shah expressed "extreme sorrow for the unfortunate incident" in Dadshah's desert domain near Khash village.

The U.S. State Department has expressed "deep concern" over the murders.

The bodies were stripped of all valuables and personal papers. Police stumbled on them during a routine patrol. Their report to the capital was delayed by poor communications.

Knife In Head No Bother To Terrior 'Pistol'

WICHITA, Kan. (AP)—A friendly little wire-haired terrier named "Pistol" frisked around Wednesday, after removal of a knife embedded in his skull.

Fred Hitchcock, Wichita Eagle photographer and Pistol's owner, said the hole in the dog's head apparently doesn't bother him any more than did a bullet that passed through his body, just behind his front legs, a month ago.

"The little guy just wants to stick around and see what possibly can happen next," Hitchcock said.

The photographer said when he arrived home Tuesday, Pistol greeted him.

Sticking square in the middle of Pistol's forehead, Hitchcock said, was a pocket knife with the sharply-honed blade buried an inch deep in the dog's skull.

Hitchcock said he tried to pull the knife loose and failed—with Pistol objecting strenuously. Then he called a neighbor, Lawrence Caylor, an employe of the Wichita Humane Society. Caylor gripped the knife with a pair of pliers, and with a rocking motion removed it.

Pistol yelped a couple of times, shook his head—and with a dab of iodine on his wound was ready for his next adventure.

About a month ago the family found Pistol ill—and discovered he had been shot, apparently with a .22 bullet. It had gone between two ribs, slanted downward, and emerged between two ribs on the other side.

"He was a pretty sick dog for a couple of days," Hitchcock said. "But we put some iodine on each side and he snapped out of it. I don't see how it missed his heart."

Hitchcock said he's at a loss to explain the apparent attempts to kill Pistol.
